Ike Calls for Check of Security System Congo Assembly Invalidates 2 Ouster Orders

Conflict Is Back To Start

Steps to Be Taken Against Disorder

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The National Assembly today voted to invalidate President Joseph Kasavubu's firing of Premier Patrice Lumumba and Lumumba's order ousting Kasavubu. The decision was embodied in a single resolution. Lumumba himself voted for the resolution along with 59 members. Nineteen deputies voted against.

Conflict Back to Start

The decision throws the conflict between Kasavubu and Lumumba back to where it was. The deputies appeared baffled by the problem and reflected it clearly in confusing speeches which followed one another all day long.

Militarily, Kasavubu picked up strength. Congolese soldiers loyal to Kasavubu filtered into Leopoldville. Leaders of Kasavubu's Abako party said most came from the army base at Thysville, 70 miles southwest of Leopoldville, where the army's July mutiny started.

To Move Against Disorder

A U. N. spokesman made clear that the international organization, which has silenced Radio Leopoldville and tightened its control over Congo airports, intends to take determined steps to prevent the spread of disorder. "Anything that can be done to save Congolese lives is within the spirit and letter of our mandate," he said.

The feud turned into violence Tuesday night when Congo troops backing Lumumba beat and clubbed Kasavubu supporters demonstrating against the premier.

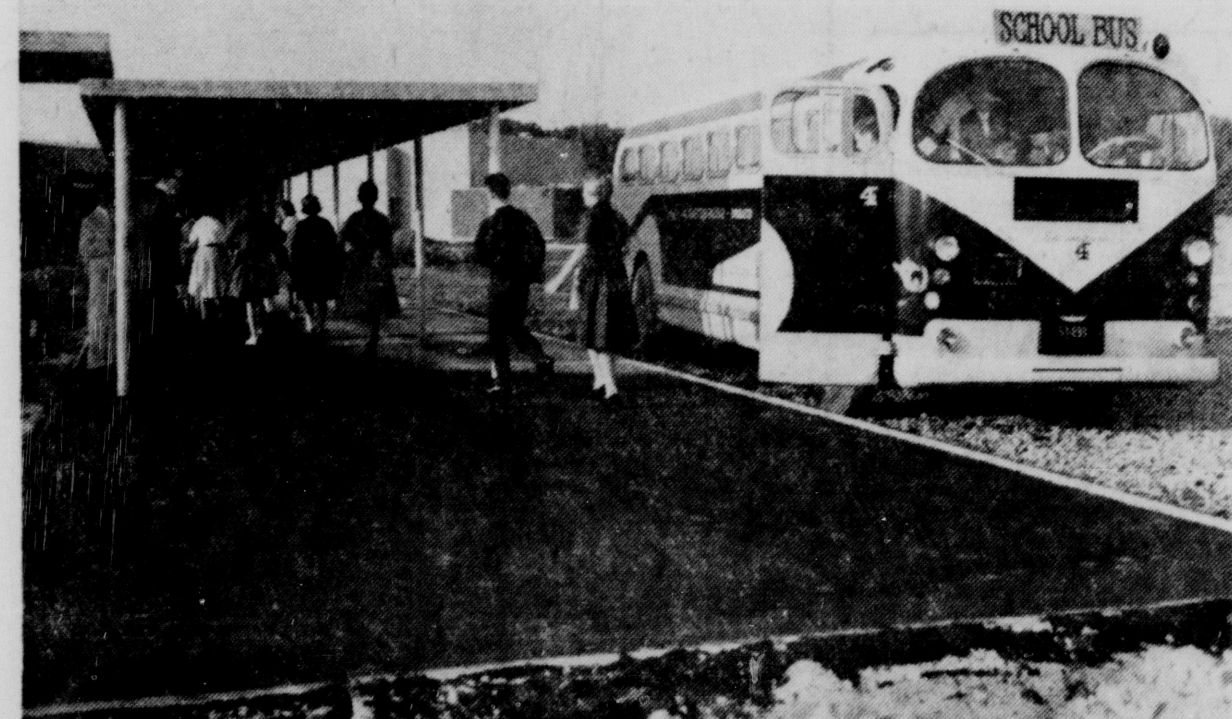

Taking a stronger hand to stem the growing threat of civil war, the U. N. command seized the government radio network thus silencing Lumumba who had counted on his oratory to woo the Congolese.

(But Kasavubu circumvented U. N. radio control by broadcasting from Brazzaville, across the Congo River from Leopoldville in the former French colony now called the Congo Republic. Kasavubu declared he still is the Congo's chief of state and his ministers had no power to depose him. In his broadcast, monitored in London, the president said he could count on the Congo army to support him in his struggle with Lumumba whom he accused of plunging the country toward dictatorship and communism.)

Banking on U. N.

Kasavubu is banking on the stiffening authority of the United Nations to restore order in the republic and support him as chief of state.

Lumumba is gambling on aid from the Communists who have been funneling in technicians. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

FIRST SCHOOL BUS ARRIVES—The first group of pupils attending the new Rondout Valley Central Junior-Senior High School alight from Bus No. 4, and are greeted by two faculty members. The new 27-classroom school opened officially this morning. Formal dedication of the structure is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 6. Police authorities throughout the county and city urged motorists to use extreme caution in driving through school zones. They warned it is a violation of the state law to pass a stopped school bus on the highway.

Schwenk Has Albany Equalization Date

Why the Kingston equalization rate has been reduced from 42 to 35 per cent by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, thus increasing school taxes in contrast with other towns in the consolidated school district, will be discussed with Frank C. Moore, chairman of the Equalization Board on Thursday.

Former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk, who had charged the reduction in equalization rate by the State is responsible for an "unfair and discriminatory" school tax burden being thrown on Kingston taxpayers, will meet with the State Board of Equalization and Assessment at Albany at 10 p. m. tomorrow to discuss the matter.

Makes Higher Tax

Reduction in the Kingston equalization rate from 42 to 35 per cent will place an additional and unnecessary tax burden on the Kingston school taxpayers, out of proportion to the taxes paid in other towns in the school district.

Moore's office has charged that the inequality is due to local assessment practices and not to the state's equalization rate.

Schwenk charges that the purpose of establishing an equalization rate is to equalize this difference in assessment figures and that there is no basis for the decrease in assessment rate fixed by the State which results in Kingston taxpayers paying more than their just share of school tax.

Says Real Estate Values Down

Talking about the meeting in Albany on Thursday, when Schwenk will meet with a representative of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, he said that after being advised by the corporation counsel, he had spent much time on the rescinding measure and wanted it brought up for a vote.

Carlino Sees GOP Gains in Assembly

Speaker Predicts Party Will Pick Up 6 Seats, State for Nixon by 500,000

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino expects the Republicans to gain at least six Assembly seats and give Vice President Richard M. Nixon a 1/2-million-vote majority in the presidential election.

The Long Island Republican, a Roman Catholic, told reporters, the issue of Sen. John F. Kennedy's Catholicism certainly had entered the campaign.

Effects Exaggerated

But Carlino said he thought its possible effects were "grossly over-exaggerated."

"The overwhelming number of citizens in New York are going to vote on the basis of the best qualifications," Carlino said of the race between Nixon and the Democratic senator from Massachusetts.

Carlino, here Tuesday to meet with Republican candidates for the Assembly, predicted at a news conference that the GOP would gain at least six Assembly seats this November. That would give the Republicans 98 of the 150 seats.

The meeting, attended by approximately 50 incumbents and new candidates, was primarily for those from Central and Western New York. Carlino will hold similar get-togethers in Albany and New York City.

The Assembly leader said it still was very early in the presidential campaign but he thought the vice president would carry New York comfortably.

May Top 500,000

"I believe he can carry the state by 500,000 votes and may do better," Carlino said.

Regarding the Assembly, Carlino said the Republicans felt certain they would pick up the seat in Seneca County now held by Francis J. Souhan.

The Republicans, he said, also had a good chance to gain two seats in New York City now held by William Passannante and Joseph J. Weiser, two in The Bronx held by Mrs. Aileen B. Ryan and Fred W. Eggert; and, in Queens,

Levitt Comes Up With Own Tax Cut Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt suggested today additional credits or a cut in basic rates in preference to Gov. Rockefeller's plan for a 10 per cent general reduction in state income taxes.

Renews Exemption Talk

The comptroller, a Democrat, also renewed his earlier proposal for restoration of exemptions but were in effect prior to the Republican governor's tax program.

Levitt's remarks were in a speech prepared for delivery at the National Tax Association Conference.

Levitt said that the 10 per cent tax cut advocated by Rockefeller would be inequitable.

Upper-bracket taxpayers would receive more dollar relief than those with lower incomes, Levitt contends.

Rockefeller has said he would propose a 10 per cent cut in all personal income taxes due next April, provided state revenues held

Attempt to Rescind Parking Meter Raise Loses in Council

An attempt by Alderman Joseph F. Carroll Jr., (R) 11th Ward, to gain direct action on his measure to rescind an amended parking meter ordinance lost by an indirect move at last night's Common Council session, but the document was left still in committee.

Indirectly, however, the Carroll proposal lost by a 9-4 party vote which settled the question of whether committees, which dealt with the meter ordinance should be dismissed or retained. They were the traffic, finance, laws and rules committees, and the vote retained them.

Carroll, although he voted for the higher meter rate of five cents for the half, instead of full hour on main streets, said he had since changed his mind after weighing sentiment. He said that after being advised by the corporation counsel, he had spent much time on the rescinding measure and wanted it brought up for a vote.

A bid for the lower meter rate was also made by William Costello, of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, who spoke as chairman of the Central Business Men's Association's traffic committee.

A request for additional financial aid for the Kingston City Library was left with the council's special library committee, and Alderman Donald M. Hastings, its chairman, said contact is to be made with the Board of Supervisors to ask it to authorize a county subsidy to help pay library costs.

A small fee is now charged for non-resident patrons of the library, it was noted, and it was proposed that a subsidy could be of more direct and substantial benefit.

Alderman Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward, minority leader, complained of what he considered unfair changes in assessments, and of lack of publication of the changes as was decided in the Mayor Frederick

County and City Election Districts Now Number 97

Various changes in Ulster County, including changes in the number of election districts were discussed by Ulster County Commissioners of Election Joseph Epstein (D) and Seymour Werbalowsky (R) at a meeting held at the Board of Elections office on Tuesday, September 6.

It was pointed out that the Town of Ulster has added two new election districts this year which will increase the districts to seven. With this change, there are now 97 election districts in the county and with 20 election districts in the city of Kingston, the total election districts where registration and voting will take place for the presidential election on November 8, are 97.

The commissioners reiterated the great convenience of central registration to voters. In lieu of applying for registration on regular days of registration which occur this year on October 7, 8, 14 and 15, voters may apply at the Board of Elections office on John Street for registration up to and including September 20. More persons should avail themselves of this convenience to register now while they can do so without standing in line or getting into crowds. The members of the Central Registration Board are on hand to serve the public at their office and will do everything possible to facilitate the registration of voters.

Persons of Jewish faith who will not be able to register on October 7, 8, 14 and 15, may come to the Board of Elections and register now.

Individuals planning a trip in October and who will not be here on the regular registration days, should avail themselves of central registration.

Any information desired pertaining to registration and voting may be obtained by calling the Board of Elections.

"SELF-CONFESSED TRAITORS"—That's what President Eisenhower said today the defection of two American code clerks shows the need for an examination of the government's entire security machinery. The President said every possible step must be taken, without violating the rights of individuals, to remove bad security risks from positions where they can harm the nation.

Action Is Deferred On Dietz for School

Action that would nullify a pending measure on previously proposed use of Dietz Stadium land for a junior high school was deferred Tuesday night by the Common Council until a Sept. 20 recessed meeting.

Alderman James K. Ryan (D), 10th Ward, majority leader, asked for the recess to permit the aldermen time to gain more detailed information pertinent to the education board's recently proposed use of a site off Hurley Avenue.

Letters from the planning and education boards informed the council of action favoring the other site for the junior high school, and also of scheduled discussion of a structure on a Hasbrouck Park site to replace Schools 3 and 4 downtown.

Ask Vote Be Dropped

The education board, through a letter from Robert O'Reilly, its vice-president, to Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye, informed the council of its consideration of the other site, and asked it not to proceed with the measure that would put the stadium site proposal on the November election ballot.

The Hurley Avenue site, the letter said, was among several proposed by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and the Ulster County Board of Realtors. It was also proposed that the council or its school committee meet with the board to discuss the proposed new downtown school.

Discussion on points of order and procedure when the Ryan proposal was offered at the end of the session led to a confusing vote on it. Ryan, Samuel J. Perry (R) Fifth Ward minority

Central Business Group Opposed To 10-Cent Meters

Unanimous opposition to the recent parking meter increase was again expressed at the first fall meeting of the Central Businessmen's Association held last night at the Mid-Town Chop House, it was announced by David L. Fletcher, president. It was pointed out that there has been no designation of meter funds for improvement of crowded parking conditions or development of off-street parking facilities. A suggestion was made that perhaps a lever device allowing parkers a few minutes free time for small purchases or to get change might be helpful. Evan Davis, past-president of the Uptown Businessmen's Association, said

President Pleads for Alertness

Sept. 16 Hearing Set on Case of Two Code Clerks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the defection to Moscow of two American code clerks shows the need for an examination of the government's entire security machinery.

The President said every possible step must be taken, without violating the rights of individuals, to remove bad security risks from positions where they can harm the nation.

Cites Case of Two

Eisenhower told his news conference that the defection of the two code clerks of the National Security Agency proves that Americans must be constantly on the alert.

The two clerks, Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, and William H. Martin, 29, turned up in a Moscow news conference Tuesday and accused America of threatening peace.

The case shows, Eisenhower said, that we must go through our entire procedures to strengthen the possibility that weak, irresponsible, or treasonable persons do not occupy sensitive posts.

No Word on Plans

Eisenhower said he had not received any indication that Mitchell and Martin were suspected of any plans to defect before they left their jobs, ostensibly on a vacation, last June 24.

Eisenhower said this in reply to a questioner who noted that the pair claimed they had told a member of Congress of their disagreement with American policies.

A Capitol Hill hearing that could send sparks darting through high government agencies has been scheduled for Sept. 16 in the case of the two turncoats.

Plans for the hearing were announced within hours after the Moscow news conference of the two clerks whom Eisenhower has branded as "self-confessed traitors."

The Pentagon said one of them was mentally sick and both were obviously confused.

Says NSA Advised

Chairman Francis E. Walter, D-Ga., of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said the FBI had advised the National Security Agency that one of the pair was a homosexual. Walter said the FBI gave the NSA this information before the two were hired in 1957.

Walter said he could not identify which one he meant. The Pentagon didn't say which one it considered mentally ill.

A Pentagon spokesman, asked about Walter's charges, said the department was sticking by its statement of last Friday—that FBI files contained no derogatory information about the two.

The big question was this: How could the pair—one now accused of being a homosexual, one identified as mentally sick and both listed as "obviously confused"—be hired or hang onto jobs in one of the top secret government agencies?

NSA is a defense unit with headquarters about 20 miles from Washington. It operates 24 hours a day, intercepting radio signals and concentrating on codes and communications intelligence.

Sweeping Investigation

The agency was reported to have begun a sweeping investigation of its own.

Holiday Traffic Deaths Total 415, Lowest Since 1954

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 415 persons during the three-day Labor Day weekend, the lowest for the holiday since 1954.

The final toll also was less than the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 460 and the record Labor Day total of 461, set in 1951.

This year's traffic deaths compared with 438 last year. The 1954 total was 364.

Grange Campaign For Reduction in Gasoline Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Grange has started a national campaign to get a reduction in federal gasoline taxes, contending the levies are particularly hard on farmers.

The farm organization's efforts will be directed at the temporary one-cent a gallon increase in the federal tax due to expire next June 30. It foresees efforts among some highway groups to get the increase extended.

Herschel Newsom, master of the Grange, has written members of his organization that funds for financing the big federal-state highway expansion program should be obtained from excise taxes now being collected on sale of new automobiles and on automobile parts and accessories.

Newsom wants one-half of the excise revenues collected on sales of new cars and five-eighths of the taxes collected on parts and accessories turned over to the highway fund. These revenues now go into the government's general revenue fund.

"There are those," Newsom said, "who hope that these excise taxes on new cars, parts and accessories will be repealed. This is wishful thinking. These taxes have been on the books since 1917. We, along with many other organizations, have tried unsuccessfully to get them repealed. There is every indication that they will continue."

"Therefore, as a practical matter, as long as we are going to have these taxes, let's get the benefit from them and have the money expended for the highways."

The farm leaders said that if the automotive excise taxes were used for highway building there would be no need to increase the gasoline tax and the latest one-cent increase could be allowed to expire next June 30.

CAPSULE CUTAWAY—A Discoverer capsule is profiled in this drawing. In August, two similar re-entry and recovery vehicles became the first objects recovered from orbit. The capsule rides in the nose section of the Discoverer satellite. On command from the ground, it separates from the satellite; retro-rockets fire it down out of orbit. The thrust cone is then ejected and the radio beacon is turned on. The heat shield keeps the vehicle from burning up from friction. After re-entry into the atmosphere, explosive pistons eject the parachute and light beacons are turned on. Recovery of the capsule has been achieved both from the ocean and in mid-air.

Kennedy in Call For Federal Acts To Aid Education

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today the federal government must fill the tax vacuum that has left the nation short 50,000 teachers and 132,000 classrooms.

The Democratic presidential nominee shuttled his campaign into Oregon today after telling a crowd of about 5,000 in Seattle's Civic Auditorium Tuesday night that whether he likes it or not the next president is going to have to submit to Congress "a whole new set of defense goals."

On his way toward a major speech in Portland tonight, Kennedy turned to what he called difference on many issues between the Democrats and the Republicans.

The Massachusetts senator avoided mentioning his rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, but he struck hard at what he said was the Republican responsibility for failure of Congress to pass an aid-to-education bill.

"It is time to realize that we are faced with new frontiers in education," Kennedy said in a prepared speech. "The old philosophy of leaving the financing of public school education to state and local taxpayers and the financing of college education primarily to parents is no longer sufficient."

Kennedy said the time has come for emergency federal action "to help halt the decline in American education." He said this does not mean federal control nor federal replacement of local effort.

Kennedy carried his campaign into Oregon after what was generally accounted as a moderately successful excursion Tuesday from Pocatello, Idaho, to Spokane, Wash., and to Seattle.

The contest is sponsored by the theater and the State-Record Co. of Columbia, which publishes "The State" and "The Columbia Record."

The publishers are providing $1,000 in prize money for the best full-length play—not previously published or professionally produced—submitted before Nov. 15.

Cash Option for Some

Rocky Advocates New Health Insurance Aid for 65, Over

LIBERTY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller urged action by the next national administration to start a federal old age health insurance program financed by an additional social security tax.

Rockefeller's program includes a cash payment option for those already insured by other health plans.

The governor urged the federal program for persons over 65.

22 Million by 1975

Estimating that there will be 22 millions over 65 by 1975, he said this group will require "two to three times more medical care than the rest of the population."

"And the great majority of them will be unable to afford it on their own," he said.

Rockefeller gave details of his program Tuesday night in addressing the opening session of the Northeast Regional Conference of the American Public Welfare Association. More than 900 delegates were registered from 11 Northeastern states, the District of Columbia, six Canadian provinces, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The bulk of the delegates are public welfare officials.

The Republican governor said the bill recently enacted by Congress to provide medical care for the needy aged was inadequate.

Rockefeller's program would use the mechanism of the existing social security system. There would be no requirement to pay medical expenses.

Needs Extra Levy

The governor said his plan could be financed by a maximum additional payroll tax of one-half of one per cent for both employers and employees.

He said "the program should provide an outlet for hospitalization, nursing home care and visiting nurse services." As soon as possible, he added, early diagnostic services should be added so as to help reduce the need for hospitalization.

Rockefeller said the program should be expanded later to include home-care services, the costs of some drugs, surgery and possibly other physician services.

Rockefeller's program also contains provisions for the four million persons over 65 who are not covered now by social security.

Rockefeller said all persons over 65 who already had equivalent and voluntary health insurance plans should have the option of passing up the federal benefits and taking a monthly cash payment instead. The amount of the cash benefit, which the governor did not specify, would be added to the regular social security payments.

The governor said the purpose of the extra monthly check to those already insured would be to encourage commercial insurers and voluntary health insurance organizations to continue developing coverage plans for older persons.

Natural Advantage

BALTIMORE (AP)—Miss Doris Wilson, a teacher at York Wood Elementary School, complimented one of her first-grade pupils on his prowess in games. The youngster replied: "Yes, I'll be a good athlete. I've got athlete's foot."

Gets Contested Novel

NEW YORK (AP)—The D. H. Lawrence novel "Lady Chatterley's Lover" is heading for Broadway on the crest of its postoffice and movie triumphs. Jack Linder, producer of several of Mae West's stage shows, plans to bring the dramatic version to Broadway in January. It was previously staged in 1937, but Linder feels a revival is apt now. Postal authorities recently lost a suit to bar an unexpurgated edition of the novel from the mails, and the U. S. Supreme Court ended a ban on exhibit of the movie in New York State.

WHERE IT WILL HURT

The nation's airlines today handle more intercity passenger traffic than the railroads and buses combined. Yet under present conditions they need still more business to realize a profit. Right now they are in trouble.

In the first half of 1960, six of the 12 big domestic lines operated in the red. And this despite an over-all nine per cent increase in the gross return enjoyed by all these lines.

Not since 1955 have the airlines earned the 10 per cent on investment that the Civil Aeronautics Board considers reasonable. Even with recent five per cent fare increases, the industry is not expected to attain such earning levels in 1960.

The arrival of the jet age has vastly compounded the carriers' gradually mounting difficulties. But the problem actually began a few years back.

The CAB, heavily pressed by many lines, especially by some of the lesser greats, sharply liberalized its route-making policy. The result was to open up many more American cities to multiline competition.

A fine idea in theory, in practice it has given air travelers more choices than they need, and the airlines many, many empty seats.

The high speed jets magnified the matter by making far more seats available. Their huge capacity plus their high daily use through quick trips and quick turnaround has produced a veritable flood of passenger space. Seat occupancy, 64 per cent in profitable 1955, has dropped to an unprofitable 60 per cent.

The long range health of U. S. airlines requires that a satisfactory answer be found soon. The pending merger between ailing Capital Airlines and United is a serious danger sign.

Certainly no line can operate for long in the red. Nor do we want to return to a wholesale policy of subsidy.

What seems to be called for is a host of individual airline decisions, encouraged and supported by the CAB, to reduce the total of routes and flights to proportions which match the real volume of traffic and thus offer hope of sensibly profitable operation.

The airlines, like many businesses, prefer to think in expansionist terms. And they cherish the prestige of the far-flung route system. But you can't eat prestige, or pay off the bonds with it.

Good sense has to prevail. If it doesn't, the taxpayer is the one who will be hurt.

WAY OF LIFE PERSONIFIED

It is no reflection on James Wadsworth, our new U. N. delegate to say that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge will be sorely missed in this post.

Lodge of course could not refuse his party's call as 1960 vice presidential nominee. Yet he was uniquely fitted to represent this nation in the U. N. forum.

The tall, patrician gentleman from Massachusetts in eight years made himself a master diplomat.

There are all kinds of tough negotiators in this world. Not too many could conceivably match Lodge's blend of toughness and glacial calm.

In an arena often given to fiery or legalistic oratory, Lodge characteristically stated his arguments coolly, tersely but with unmistakable force. His verbal thrusts were clean, sharp, almost inevitably wounding against his Communist adversaries.

He never cared who his individual Russian opponent might be. He felt competent to handle any and all.

Nevertheless, it would be wholly misleading to suggest that Lodge's claim to fame is his ability to "stand up to the Russians." Neither peace nor any other free world objective is to be gained by scoring debating points over the Soviet Union.

Lodge's distinction is that with dignity and high intelligence he consistently unfolded before the world the logic and moral strength of America's position. He per-

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
AN ENGLISHMAN SEES US

Usually British journalists who come to this country write about us as though we were Fiji Islanders or Congolese; in fact, they show more understanding of the Fijis. There is so much looking down their noses that they do not see what is before them. Too often all they see is that New Yorkers or Washingtonians are different from Londoners. There are, of course, exceptions. Perhaps the greatest correspondent Great Britain ever sent us was Sir Willmont Lewis whose influence in both countries was enormous. And he was as knowledgeable in American affairs as any American newspaperman.

Recently Peregrine Worsthorne came to the United States for "The Daily Telegraph and Morning Post" of London and he has done a series of articles about us which are particularly noteworthy and worthwhile. He arrived when a daily newspaper and a weekly magazine were producing some froth about our "national purpose"—an ambiguous and purposeless phrase. Of this, Worsthorne wrote:

"I cannot pretend that I actually asked any Americans about this, because to my mind the phrase is obviously reminiscent of those societies—Communist, Fascist and Caesarist—which dress up a diet of propaganda dust and ashes with a high-sounding sauce called 'the national purpose'."

Quite so. Unless the journalist wandered among the self-anointed Park Avenue intellectuals who constitute a tiny segment of American life—but a very noisy one—he would find few Americans who wondered about our national purpose. Instead he saw substantial Americans and came to this conclusion:

"Here, it seemed to me, was a society in which men and women, families and communities, are realizing the good life not in the past or the future, not in slogans or statistics, not in terms of ideology and propaganda, but actually on the ground, in their flesh and blood lives here and now. They are so busy living that they have no time for political oratory. Having got to the heart of the package they can afford to throw away the tinsel wrapping. For them Christmas Day is over. The dazzling gifts have passed into everyday life."

This is, of course, the richness of American material life unequalled anywhere. Worsthorne captured something else:

"Experts tell us that the Soviet Union is a land of promise and expanding production. Other experts tell us that America is a land of disappointment and contraction. All I can say is: 'Pity the country whose glories only experts can detect, and envy the country whose faults it takes an expert to discover.'"

This panegyric might do the British some good, for just as it used to be popular for Americans to twist the lion's tail, so, in recent years, has it been the habit of British journalists to pluck the feathers of the American eagle. It is not usual for a British writer to capture the spirit of the American people—a spirit which is overloaded by the defeatism of certain internationalist groups in this country who, having become Russophiles, are discouraged that Russia did not prove out to be the savior of civilization. And for that they blame the United States!

Again, this writer has caught something of the richness of American family life—which is the spiritual basis of our society:

"Travelling through the Middle West by Greyhound bus I was invited by my neighbor to stop over for the night at his small suburban home. He was a travelling salesman—by our classifications distinctly lower-middle-class—who had for some months been saving up to buy a small yacht. The next morning he took his family and me for a sail on Lake Michigan. There was nothing 'materialistic' about the joy and spiritual release, the surge of the spirit, which sailing afforded that family. As a result of their prosperity they—and millions like them—are experiencing a new depth to life."

He concludes:

"... These families were not wallowing in a pig trough. They were drinking at the fountains of their national heritage."

I could go on quoting from these articles. Suffice it that this writer captured something about this country that others have missed. He travelled about where he could meet Americans, not those who follow the seasons internationally. He sought to come again and see more of us. We need such interpreters of our ways, particularly among the British who are our partners, for better or for worse.

When a Lymph Node Swells

You Know War Has Begun

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

That olive-shaped nubbins you feel in your groin is usually referred to as a "gland." So, too, the more rounded swelling that appears under your jawbone when you've got an infected tooth or a sore throat.

In actuality, each of these is a lymph node. Not a gland. Since a gland, by definition, manufactures a substance that pours forth, like saliva, or one that's secreted directly into your blood stream, like the thyroid extract that's a product of the gland that lies on your windpipe (trachea), looking much like a bow tie.

Lymph nodes are scattered all over the body. Most notably under the jaw, in the neck, in the arm pit and in the groin. Wherever they're located, they act as a combination barracks and casualty clearing station.

When you have a localized infection, like an abscess of fingers or toes, they'll send out a small army of protective cells (lymphocytes) to help fight attacking bugs. And, as soon as the first wave of fighters leaves for the front, they start boot camps for replacements. Pretty soon, they're buzzing with excitement that manifests itself to you by local soreness and swelling.

While the battle is in progress, they also act as casualty clearing stations. Dying and dead enemy bacteria and soldiers are brought in, causing the swelling and pain to increase.

As soon as they get the situation in hand, they close the boot camp and dispose of their casualties. You note that the pain and tenderness have disappeared. The swelling goes down shortly thereafter.

Sometimes they're overwhelmed by the enemy. When this happens, invading bugs travel up the lines of communication (lymphatics) previously used to get the army of protective lymphocytes to the front. Battle lines are drawn within the node. If the defenders are beaten, the node may be destroyed. Then you are told that the abscess has spread and may have to be drained surgically if it does not open by itself.

And sometimes, when the going gets particularly rough, enemy troops slip by the node and get directly into the blood stream, causing grave illness unless controlled by antibiotics, with or without the help of surgical drainage.

If I've made clear the meaning of glandular swelling, perhaps you'll understand why it's inadvisable for you to rely on self-treatment when any one or several of these nubbins feel sore or painful. You've got a war on your hands. And you'd better not try to fight it single-handed.

Making It Difficult to Pick Up Anything...

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—

Committee for Economic Development—a research organization of predominantly Republican big business executives—has just published a new study on "Guiding Metropolitan Growth" which endorses some important campaign promises on this subject in the Democratic platform.

The CED people didn't plan it that way, obviously. But that's the way it comes out. There is no comparable section in the GOP platform in such specific language.

What the Democratic platform proposes is "a 10-year program to restore our cities and provide for balanced suburban development." The specific planks include elimination of slums, restoration of blighted areas, federal aid for metropolitan transportation, federal aid for combating air and water pollution and so on.

Says CED in its report: "Estimates of the capital requirements to renew our cities cover a wide range—from 120 million dollars up." A more modest Harvard M.I.T. study estimates that 42 billion dollars will be needed "to bring U. S. cities up to a modest standard of decency in 10 years." Not even the Democrats have dared suggest figures that high.

Nobody has yet added up how much federal money now goes to the cities. But when 300 million dollars a year for urban renewal, 100 million a year for 10 years for highway approaches, public housing and all the public work appropriations benefiting cities are counted in, they'll make a tidy sum.

CED recommends "the continuation of present programs with federal aid maintained at approximately present levels," until this whole question can be evaluated.

In this recommendation is an admission that private enterprise and local municipal governments can't cope with the problems of America's rapidly growing cities.

The U. S. Conference of Mayors endorses this. It finds that "the job is so big it will require all available, combined private, federal, state and city efforts to make a dent in it. . . . The federal role is the crux of the matter."

CED has had a research committee under Jervis J. Babb of New York, former head of Lever Brothers, working on this problem of metropolitan area development for three years. It has published two earlier reports on the central city concept.

It finds that there are 192 metropolitan areas of 50,000 or more people in the U. S. today. The combined city population is 120 million, or two-thirds of the U. S. total.

ONE OF THE PRINCIPAL DIFFICULTIES in the metropolitan areas is that their governments are obsolete, like the cities themselves. There are 16,000 local governments in these 192 areas.

Where a metropolitan area roughly corresponds to a county, as in Los Angeles and Miami, the problem is somewhat easier. Where it takes in half a dozen counties and even crosses state lines, as in New York, the problem is harder.

State legislatures controlled by rural counties that have small sympathy with city problems make solutions next to impossible.

Where there are a number of political entities in one metropolitan area, they can't assess or agree on uniform taxes or float bond issues to pay for their own salvation.

So they rush to Washington. Senator Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) has been backing legislation to create a department of urban affairs in the President's cabinet to try to make some sense out of this confusion. But Congress isn't ready for this drastic step yet.

LOGICALLY, SINCE THERE ARE MORE than 10 times as many Americans now living in cities as there are on farms, there is as much reason for having a secretary of urban affairs as there is for having a secretary of agriculture.

Defecting Code Men Seen Blackmailed, Brainwashed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Blackmail and brainwashing by Soviet agents undoubtedly brought about the treason of William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell.

The whole record in the case is repulsive and may never see the light of day. But the depths to which the Soviet agents stoop nowadays in order to get scraps of information from American military sources are indescribably revolting.

The same tactics which caused Messrs. Burgess and Maclean, the British diplomats, suddenly to defect to Moscow from London would appear to have been used again in the case of the two Americans employed in the hush-hush bureau known as the National Security Agency.

Started in Navy

The story goes back to the time Mitchell and Martin lived together while they were in the Navy. They were exclusive individuals who didn't seem to be interested in the opposite sex. When they went through the first check-up before being employed by the National Security Agency a few years ago, there was nothing derogatory found out about them. After they were employed, however, an investigation revealed that one of the two had been examined by a psychiatrist who said later that the young man seemed to have inclinations toward sex deviation.

Just why this report didn't result in any action to watch closely the subsequent behavior of the two young men is a mystery. For they went to Mexico together fully a year before their recent defection, and it was undoubtedly while they were in Mexico that they made their first contact with the Soviets.

The Only Way

The threats of blackmail together with compromising pictures, usually come first. The victim is afraid of what will be disclosed about his personal life, and meets often with the Soviet blackmailers who carry on their brainwashing to the point where the defection becomes inevitable, as seemingly the only way out.

It could be that the Soviet experts began their blackmail in Mexico and decided to train the future defectors to get further information. The plot was carried out to the point that the Soviets even anticipated possible charges of brainwashing and arranged to have the two young men write out their statement before they left the United States for the Soviet Union. It was known to government authorities here that they had left such a statement in a safety deposit box at a bank in Maryland, and the fact became available to the American government just after the two young men left for Russia, but it was not released for publication.

Tell-Tale Phrasing

The phrasing of the document, now issued in Moscow, is so much like that which defectors often use, that it bears all the earmarks of careful preparation by Soviet experts: it says, for example:

"In the Soviet Union our main values and interests appear to be shared by a greater number of people. Consequently, we feel that we will be better accepted socially there, and will be better able to carry out our professional activities.

"Another motivating factor is that the talents of women are encouraged and utilized to a much greater extent in the Soviet Union than in the United States. We feel that this enriches Soviet society and makes Soviet women more desirable as mates."

'Without Consulting'

There are references to "capitalist society," "preventive war" and to the "development of nuclear and more powerful means of destruction." And, as if to anticipate charges of brainwashing, the document itself says:

"This statement has been made without consulting with the government of the Soviet Union. . . . We wish to make this explanation in such a way that it cannot be later construed as a propaganda statement inspired by the government of the nation in which we have asked to be allowed to make our homes."

There are many things about the Martin-Mitchell episode which have yet to be explained, and one of them gives a clear indication of the brainwashing. This is pointed up by a Reuters News Service dispatch from Moscow about the press conference which Martin and Mitchell held there. It says:

"Martin and Mitchell referred to the disappearance of an American C-130 aircraft over Soviet Armenia in September, 1958, and said it had deliberately crossed the border to get into range of Soviet radar installations. The State Department claimed it had been shot down, they said, while Russia said it had crashed."

Proof of Brainwash?

The two men said they were told by a high official of the National Security Agency that the plane was on an intelligence flight, and that most members of Congress did not know about these flights they decided to speak privately with a Congressman. They explained the nature of the C-130 flight but the conversation was interrupted by a telephone call from State Department requesting the Congressman to refrain from further discussion of the subject, they said.

"They declined to give the name of the Congressman. He can name himself if he wants to," Mitchell said.

American authorities, who investigated every angle of the case, are convinced that this is an example of brainwashing. For there is indisputable evidence of the crashing of the C-130, and there is no evidence whatsoever of any conversations between State Department officials dealing with these problems and any Congressman.

On its face, it is absurd to assume that any minor employee in a hush-hush agency would take it upon themselves normally to go to a Congressman's office and tell him there were important intelligence flights which he should know about. The risk of being compromised and detected by such a visit is so great that it seems hardly possible anybody in his right mind would try it.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Any ambitious person who gives the least intelligent thought to the condition of the Danes in a homeland accused by the socialistic fetters of mediocrity, monotony and frustration must sorrow for poor devils impounded in that smirking hell and envy, by a shade, even a convict serving life in a dungeon. The convict clanking his chains to the window where his bread and water are shoved through, is not mocked by any pretense of the warden that he ought to be happy because others in the same tier are no better off. On the contrary, the warden agrees that this wretched wretch has little to thank him for.

Tourists now returning from the pretty, post-card enchantment of Copenhagen and the carpet-sized expanse of the State of Denmark will be happily deceived by their impressions of thousands of the most beautiful blonde children ever seen on earth, of pickled delicatessen, aquavite, a beer of special savor, cheese, bacon and the quaintness of a musical comedy country.

But if one could look into the souls of the Danes a terrible, inevitable melancholy would be seen darkening the lives of many. It is their motto and their boast that Denmark is a land "where few have too much and fewer too little." It is, in other words, a land where mediocrity limits the rewards of superior persons and the suicides number 1,000 a year in a population of 4,500,000. Five hundred try to end it all every year in Copenhagen alone, which has about one-fourth of the total population.

And speaking of the Capital, one per cent of the population, including all those figurine children, are examined every year for lunacy of some degree. If the standards of sanity were higher the statistics might be gloomier because the political boast of enforced frustration obviously augurs ill for the peace of mind of a people noted for their adventurous history and their strong individual personality under normal conditions.

The tourists' diet is not for the Danes. Mothers must go out to work, parking children in state kennels by the day in the Russian method. And the whole damned, mocking paradise can be seen in two days, and thereafter to the end of life is just a repetition of a stereotypical.

These figures on the rate of self-destruction were brought to my notice in an essay by my colleague E. F. Tompkins, of the New York Journal-American, during a swish through Copenhagen last year. Accordingly, I called on the office of public affairs and was told that, although the suicide rate per capita seemed large, comparisons were deceptive. How could one rely on the figures for Soviet countries, for example? And wasn't it likely that Italy, being Catholic, would attribute some suicides to traffic mishaps which in that mad land are high enough to justify suspicion?

I found resistance to the whole topic, but not for any moral reason. The reason was political although Denmark has a state religion and the clergy have clerical duties in the strict meaning of that word, she has developed, in common with her Scandinavian sisters, an apathy toward some phases of Christian morals including virginity and, as I suggest, suicide.

The office of public affairs objected only to the implied aspersion on the socialist ceiling on the rewards of superior men and the floor under the status of the not-so-good.

Mr. Tompkins related that Dr. George Sturup, addressing the world federation for mental health in Copenhagen recently, had said: "As you advance in life you see everything is cut and dried. For the individual, everything has been foreseen. One's family needn't even bother about the details and the cost of burying one." He therefore blamed "intellectual lassitude leading to melancholy" for a despair unsubverted by the happy tourist absorbing cake and coffee on the terrace of the Angletter.

"Or," said Orla Jensen, a Danish director of social service, "our young people go elsewhere to seek the competition which has been extinguished at home."

To this point I recall the per-

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

The beginning of September is the beginning of school, school taxes, and school buses. Going back to the Kingston Academy, when the famous historian and lawyer, Alphonso T. Clearwater attended between 1860 and 1864 the course of study was a little different.

Just a century ago, Judge Clearwater studied the following: "Greek and Latin languages, elementary and practical geometry, mathematics, logic, moral and natural philosophy, ancient history, geography and history of the government of the United States."

History tells us that on the 3rd day of February 1795, the Regents of the University granted a charter to the trustees of Kingston Academy. The charter was signed by George Clinton as chancellor and DeWitt Clinton as secretary.

Going back further, "on the 4th of March, 1774, the trustees decided to buy the building on the southwest corner of Crown and John Streets, which is now the home of Sears Roebuck and Co." It was burned by Vaughan when he burned Kingston. The walls remained, the building was speedily rebuilt, and on August 3, 1779, the cause of education had progressed so far that the trustees decided to obtain a charter for a college or university." So wrote Judge Clearwater.

Even then they were dreaming of a college or university. I think Kingston would have made a fine university town, beginning some 180 years ago.

Clearwater further wrote: "It remained under the control of the board of trustees until 1864 when it merged into the present school system, surrendering its educational activities to the board of education which still retains that feature. Title to the ground upon which the building stood remained in the trustees, as still does that of the Academy Park, the use of which simply was remitted to the city for maintenance of a place of beauty in the town."

Survey Conducted On Seasonal Help

In an effort to serve agriculture more readily and to keep pace with changing needs, the New York State Employment Service has been conducting surveys in several areas on the number of seasonal workers employed and the average number of man-days utilized in certain agricultural crop activities. These surveys have been carried on by the use of postal reply cards completed and returned by the growers.

In 1958, the first year in which such a survey was conducted, only Steuben and Monroe Counties were covered. Beginning in 1959, estimating surveys were extended to the lower Hudson Valley for the apple harvest.

This year the survey again will be conducted in the counties of Columbia, Dutchess, Ulster, Orange and Rockland, embracing the lower Hudson Valley apple area. Also, Niagara and Wayne Counties will be joined with Monroe and Orleans Counties in another survey embracing the Western New York-Lake Ontario fruit area.

Results from last year's survey in the Hudson Valley estimated total employment of seasonal hired workers for the apple harvest in the five-county area as follows:

In 1959 the number of seasonal hired workers totaled

Approximately 23,000 bearing acres of apples were accounted for on the five-county area list of apple-grower employers. These estimates are a part of the first year's results, and succeeding reports will tell us more clearly the need for and the employment pattern of seasonal fruit harvest workers.

This year growers will receive an informational letter and a definition sheet defining the specific items requested on the reply cards. Growers will receive the questionnaire cards during successive two-week harvest periods. These cards should be completed and returned promptly on reply dates indicated.

Ample employer returns will make it possible to estimate the total number and kinds of workers employed in the harvesting of the apple crop in the area. All information is confidential.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Household-ers plagued by appliances that seem to break down too soon and to take forever to be repaired are borrowing a tip from businessmen: leasing instead of buying.

Monthly rental fees are far from replacing monthly payments as the matter of first importance in latter day households.

But when and if leasing charges in general are brought down to the level of monthly payments, the new industry expects to take wings.

The trend may have started with apartment dwellers renting a car now and then rather than keeping one in the city. Now it is spreading into the suburbs for appliances to be used all the time, as apart from the old custom of renting services equipment just for parties.

Already consumers can lease TV sets, furniture, power tools, and airplanes and cabin cruisers as well as cars—sometimes from dealers and increasingly from leasing corporations.

The industry is now talking about offering a household equipment package one of these days. It would include washer, dryer, refrigerator, dishwasher, air conditioner and optional power lawn-mower.

This may wait until rental costs can be lowered to the level of monthly payments for eventual ownership.

Leasing and time payment costs

now run about the same in the first two years, Lippincott & Margules says, if you count in depreciation, service and interest charges. After that, as depreciation ratios decrease, leasing charges mount by 5 to 15 per cent over purchase costs.

Listed as extra leasing benefits are freedom from insurance charges and major repair bills, from trade-in problems and getting up the down payment, and from loss of appliance use while waiting for the repair man to get parts for machines which designers charge tend to be too highly machines and too complicated.

With leasing the corporation contracts to provide service and to replace appliances when major time-consuming repairs are in order.

Consumer equipment leasing spilled over from the business world where many companies turned to it after World War II, and markedly so in the 1950s.

The renting companies escape service corporations, avoid tying up capital in costly equipment, get tools needed for comparative short term jobs.

For the consumer its largely a matter of convenience and freedom for repairs.

No Need to Wait Any Longer!

There are literally thousands of people across our land who are presently in a position to own a Cadillac car—and whose hearts incline them to Cadillac—but who have not as yet taken the step up to the "car of cars".

If you are among them, we believe the facts will convince you that you have now lost your last logical reason for reluctance.

Listen but a moment—and see if we aren't right about the car—and the time.

If, for example, you have been waiting for an especially rewarding Cadillac year—then certainly this particular year is it!

In beauty, in performance, in luxury, in everything that contributes to motoring pleasure, this latest creation stands alone.

Or if you have been waiting for an unusually practical Cadillac—then you need delay no longer.

Cadillac for 1960 represents a wiser investment than ever... its soundness of design and careful craftsmanship assure maximum dependability... and its ability to retain its value remains unchallenged among all motor cars.

And if you have been waiting for the most logical and sensible moment—surely the time is at hand!

Your dealer is now particularly anxious to welcome new owners. He has some very pleasant news for you about today's actual delivered cost.

So regardless of your reason for delay—we believe you owe it to yourself to visit your Cadillac dealer and get the facts.

The Cadillac of your dreams is waiting for you in his showroom now.

Quarrel Names Town

Accord came out of "discord" to name a Catskill Mountain village in Ulster County. Residents there credit the optimistic outlook of an unknown post office clerk for the name. Settled in the 17th century, residents could not agree upon a name for the community, even after a post office had been granted. At the height of the squabbling, one irate citizen wrote the postmaster general in Washington, D. C., suggesting that because of all the controversy the new place be called "Discord." However, apt it might have been at the time, a government clerk did a bit of editing and the village became Accord. When ominous clouds hide the summit of New York's Catskill Mountains and deep thunder reverberates through the valleys, residents say that "the little

'A Night With The Artists' Draws Over 400 to League

More than 400 residents and summer visitors turned out for "A Night With The Artists" at the Art Students' League in Woodstock, last Sunday evening. The entire proceeds of what everyone present agreed was one of the most interesting and successful events of the season went to the Sane Nuclear Policy Committee of Woodstock.

Top-flight entertainment featured a one-act play, "Man With a Flower in His Mouth," starring Gerald E. McGonigill, who recently won a critics' award as "best actor off Broadway" for his performance in that role. His supporting cast was Robert Gibson and Tommy Beere.

The celebrated Haitian guitarist, Frantz Casseus, presented a program of classical selections which met enthusiastic response. Ed Chavez was applauded for his spiritual rendition on the guitar of Mexican-American songs of the Southwest. Jerry Reed, talented performer at Cafe Society, Village Vanguard, Ruben Blum and other New York night clubs, was featured in a unique program of Irish and American ballads.

A distinguished guest speaker, Curtis Crawford, director of the National Caravan which toured the country during the past summer on behalf of the National Sane Nuclear Policy Committee, delivered a brief address graphically pointing up the urgent need for immediate world-wide nuclear disarmament, with effective controls. ## Sale for Blind Nets $490 Total

A total of $490.17 was netted from the annual Woodstock Sale, sponsored by the Albany Association of the Blind, it has been announced. The sale was held on Monday, Aug. 22, on the Lutheran Church lawn, with Mrs. Iven Freer serving as general chairman.

Chairmen for the participating churches were: Woodstock Reformed, Mrs. Chester Wolven; Overlook Methodist, Mrs. Clyde Elwyn; Christ Lutheran, Miss Florence Pope; St. Joan of Arc, Miss Margaret T. Graham; St. Gregory's Episcopal, Mrs. Ben-nell Frankling; and American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Richard Novak, chairman.

The Albany Association of the Blind expresses its sincere appreciation to all who helped make the Woodstock sale such an outstanding success.

'Substance' Is Theme At Christian Science

God's promises to mankind are being substantiated today through scientific understanding of Spirit. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" which will be read this Sunday at all Christian Science churches.

Experiences of three men who received the fulfillment of divine promises—Abraham, Moses, and Zacharias—will be featured in the Bible readings, which also include this verse from Isaiah: "For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee" (54:10).

Among passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (491:12): "It is only by acknowledging the supremacy of Spirit, which annuls the claims of matter, that mortals can lay off mortality and find the indissoluble spiritual link which establishes man forever in the divine likeness, inseparable from his creator."

Kroll Concert Draws Lavish Praise of Critic

The conclusion of the Maverick summer season brought William Kroll back to Woodstock for a recital, and it would be difficult to think of a pleasanter way to end the series. For it was a truly distinguished, cultured recital. Mr. Kroll's traditional collaborator, Arthur Balsam, was not on hand this time, though, and Nadia Reisenberg was called upon to share the duties with the violinist. The result was playing of a very high order, remarkably mature and musically. The reputation which precedes Miss Reisenberg is not based on fiction; she is a player of comprehensive understanding and complete instrumental mastery. Her command drew forth from the unworthy Maverick piano a superb, unexpected eloquence which disguised its inequities in a costume of sheer musicality. As a chamber player, too, she is a wonder, with unerring sense of balance and support (never the

Judges Listed For Riding Club's Junior Events

The judges for the first day of the seventh annual series of Junior Riding Days which are sponsored by the Woodstock Riding Club have been announced.

The judges for the Sunday, Sept. 11, event are: Austin E. Harkins, owner of radio station WBAA, a former member of the Quentin Riding Club of Lebanon, Pa.; and Mrs. Richard Roberts of New York and Zena.

Mrs. Roberts was formerly a member of the Fox Chapel Hunt in Pennsylvania and while attending Vassar rode with the Roubout Hunt in Poughkeepsie. Harkins' specialty is Western riding, while Mrs. Roberts will judge the English events.

There is no charge for spectator admission or parking at the Junior Riding days.

Entry fee for participating is $3.00 for club members and $5.00 for non-members. This entitles them to enter any class during the day for which they are eligible. The show is for children who have not reached their 18th birthday and was first conducted by J. van Rijn of the Rotron Manufacturing Company and Woodstock Riding Club.

Rotron Gives Trophy

A trophy donated annually by Rotron will be awarded at the end of the last three riding days to the owner of the horse accumulating the most points. Participation in all three riding days is necessary to be eligible for this trophy representing the Grand Championship. Three other trophies will be awarded to those accumulating the most points in Western Stock Saddle, Hunter Seat and Saddle Seat equitation.

Former grand champions have been Sartje Hitzig twice; Suzanne Jurgensen twice; Bob Cousin and Dick Plaatsman, once each. Miss Hitzig specialized in Hunter Seat, Cousins and Miss Jurgensen in Western; and Plaatsman in Saddle Seat which would seem to indicate that the Junior Riding Days have always been well balanced and that any rider, regardless of his style of riding, has an equal chance within the limits of his own and his horse's ability.

Miss Hitzig, Miss Jurgensen and Cousins have moved on to the big time horse shows with notable success. Miss Jurgensen recently winning the Western championship at the Dutchess County Fair, for the second straight year.

Onteora Schools Open Thursday

The fall term for approximately 2,150 students of the Onteora Central School District will open with a full day session on Thursday at the central building in Boiceville, Ashokan, Mt. Tremper, Phoenicia, West Hurley, West Shokan and Woodstock.

The new Reginald R. Bennett elementary school in Boiceville is being completed and will house approximately 400 elementary students in grades 1-3.

School bus passengers lists are posted in all post offices throughout the school district. All parents and students are requested to check pertinent lists relative to route descriptions and bus departure times. Persons requesting additional information are requested to contact Watson I. Goodrich in the central building at Boiceville.

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to drift downward early this afternoon in moderate trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .70 to 218.50 with the industrials down 1.30, the rails down .50 and the utilities down .30.

Key stocks declined from fractions to a point or so. Most losses were small.

The market was lower from the start and some early losses by higher-priced or volatile stocks were wide. An improvement got under way in midmorning and the wider losses were cut while a few losers erased minus signs and moved into the plus column.

The Street still lacked incentive from business and economic news to spur it toward a rally. The Post-Labor Day prospects remained cloudy.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.66 to 619.19.

Periods Used by State

The State Board has based its equalization rate of 42 per cent on sales values from 1949 to 1952 and the new rate of 35 per cent is being based on sales values for the period of 1952 to 1957, Moore's office contends.

Accompanying Schwenk to Albany Thursday will be a local representative of the State Equalization and Assessment Board, who is familiar with the local tax situation. Schwenk said the purpose of the meeting was to "find out why the Kingston rate has been upped" in the face of decreasing real estate values which have prevailed in recent months.

This reduction in the equalization rate in the City of Kingston, established by the State, places a disproportionate tax burden on city taxpayers over that of other township residents in the Consolidated school district.

When property values drop, Schwenk said, there is no reason for dropping equalization rates as has been done.

Series 'H' Bond Return Explained

ROGER E. SPEAR

"Q" "Please give me some information on H bonds. How much do they cost? Are these government bonds? How much interest is paid and how often?" L. H.

A) H bonds are one of two savings bond series currently offered by the Government. They are larger denomination obligations for investors who prefer to receive interest regularly. E bonds, which come in smaller amounts, are sold at a discount and receive interest only if held to maturity or prior redemption. H bonds come in denominations ranging from $500 to $10,000. If you bought a $10,000 H bond, you would receive $8.00 in interest from the Government six months after the date of purchase; $14.50 after holding for one year; $16.00 after eighteen months; and $20.00 for each six-month period thereafter until maturity.

Although the bonds mature in 10 years, they may be held for up to 10 years beyond original maturity, or a total of 20 years. These bonds can only be bought from or sold back to the Government—in both cases at prices stipulated in advance. Almost any bank will get them for you without commission or service charge. Government bonds are the world's safest investments. Their only disadvantage is the same as with other fixed-income securities—they offer you no protection against inflation.

Q) "I purchased Foote Mineral in 1958 at 51½ per share. My original purpose was long-term growth. Would you recommend holding or selling?" D. C.

A) I imagine that this investment has been a source of some concern to you. Foote Mineral, a producer of industrial ores and chemicals, got a bad break last year when the Atomic Energy Commission failed to renew its contract for lithium mining. For this and other reasons, Foote Minerals' earnings have been falling sharply and may not cover the dividend this year. I think recovery will be very slow here and that you would make up your loss faster by switching this holding into Tractor Supply. (Copyright 1960, General Features Corp.)

that since early August it had been in possession of a letter the pair left in a bank safe deposit box before leaving the country. The letter was seized by court order.

The turncoats read copies of the letter to newsmen in Moscow. Among other things, the statement accused the United States of following espionage policies that threatened world peace.

The two bachelors have been close friends for 10 years. Mitchell's family home is at Eureka, Calif.; Martin's at Ellensburg, Wash. They left in June, supposedly on a vacation trip to the West Coast. Later they were traced to Mexico City and Havana. They reportedly were picked up in a Cuban port and smuggled to the Soviet Union aboard a Soviet trawler.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — While most of television's filmed series are neatly spliced together in Hollywood's film studios, some actors are suffering for their art.

The crew and cast of "Route 66," for instance, are on the road and will stay there for the next nine months. The gimmick of the new hour-long series is that the whole show is being filmed on location.

Martin Milner, one of the stars in the forthcoming CBS program, managed to make his way back to Hollywood, his wife and family, for a two-day weekend between the end of one episode in Louisiana and the beginning of another in Utah.

"I am now a big mosquito expert," he announced, scratching an ankle. "We've just finished shooting in Grand Isle, which turns out to be the mosquito capital of the South. It seems that mosquitoes lay their eggs during dry spells and the eggs hatch when rain comes. We hit Grand Isle when they hadn't had rain for a month and it started to pour the minute we arrived."

When they went to Kentucky to shoot the pilot film last February, Milner became a big blizzard expert—most of that first show was shot in the mountains when the roads were glare ice.

Later, when the film company was working on a floating oil rig in the Gulf of Mexico, a storm churned up eight-foot seas, halting work and stranding the crew for a night. Then, when they wanted some hurricane seas, the Gulf was calm. The technical crew had to improvise a storm with metal drums of salt water, pumps and wind manufactured by the propellers of swamp boats.

The series is based on the adventures of two young men driving across the country. Route 66, in truth, is a highway running west from Chicago to the Pacific Ocean and it seemed strange that the first two episodes were made in spots far off the beaten track of the title.

"That's the beauty of the show," explained Milner. "We can go anywhere. We're not tied to the highway because the title is just a symbol of the heartline of a nation."

NBC's new "Jan Murray Show" made its debut Monday in the old "Queen for a Day" spot and I thought hopefully that if it were ignored it might go away. It returned again Tuesday however—a very tired and reminiscent audience participation show larded with tired and reminiscent Jan Murray jokes.

Today's hand is a good example of highway robbery. South started his career of crime by opening one club on his doubleton instead of the normal one diamond.

West was aware of South's criminal tendencies but not enough aware to open a club instead of a spade.

However, if South's queen had won the first spade West would surely have tried the club suit when he got in with the king of diamonds but South compounded his initial felony by winning the spade lead with the ace.

Then he entered dummy with the ace of hearts and led the ten of diamonds.

West took his king and I will say this for him: He studied a while before leading a small spade but who can blame him for falling for the flimflam.

East was clearly marked with the jack and queen of spades!

Dies of Burns

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Arthur Evans, 46, of Yorkshire, Cattaraugus County, died Tuesday night in Mercy Hospital of burns suffered Aug. 30 in an explosion at the National Aniline plant here.

The blast, which was believed to have erupted in a distillation unit, shattered most of the three-story brick building.

Neil Neilson, 33, of Buffalo, also burned in the explosion, was reported in fair condition at another hospital.

Officials Claim Young Folks Are Without Respect

OLD FORGE, N. Y. (AP)—Two tired and angry law-enforcement officials claim young men and women staged "a hell-raising lost weekend" at this Adirondack resort.

Theodore Schenck, a justice of the peace, said Tuesday "they have been running police ragged. They have no respect for anything, for the court, or the police or other people."

Frank Maly, a deputy sheriff and constable in the town of Webb, added, "It's pretty bad when you have to drag some of these girls out of cars on the main street, get them dressed, and get them to go back to the hotels or camps."

Both agreed that the invasion of young men and women to this Adirondack resort was accompanied by a great deal of drinking and swearing. Most of the alleged offenses, they claim, occurred at camps rented by sororities or fraternities.

No arrests were made. Schenck said "they just managed to stay within the law."

Most of the visitors were from the Utica and Syracuse areas, he said, adding:

"These kids seem to regard Labor Day weekend as a last fling before they go back to school."

Maly said "it has reached the point where we are barring several of these groups. Some camp owners refused to take them this year. It seems only minutes after 10 girls move into a camp, 30 boys converge. They even come by canoe."

N-B Span Pier Contract Goes to Pa., N.Y. Firms

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP)—A $3,981,060 construction contract for three channel piers in the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge project has been awarded by the New York State Bridge Authority.

The award, announced Tuesday, went to two firms jointly submitting the low bid, the Dravo Co., of Pittsburgh, and the Frederick Snare Corp. of New York City.

Work on the Piers, expected to start Oct. 1, will be the first construction on the Hudson River project.

Body Found in Cab

WESTMORELAND, N. Y. (AP)—The body of Franklin H. Royai, 49, of Mayfield, was found Tuesday in the cab of his pickup truck in a parking area at the Onondaga Service Station on the Thruway.

State Police said Royai apparently asphyxiated early Sunday. They said the ignition of the truck was on and the gasoline tank was empty.

Royai's toll ticket showed he entered at Verona at midnight Saturday.

Dies of Injuries

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—Bernard L. Lekki, 32, of Solville, died Monday night of injuries suffered Aug. 17 in a car-truck collision near this Madison County village.

Robert C. Horton, 34, of Morrisville, a passenger in Lekki's automobile, was killed in the crash.

State to Continue Building Barring U. S. Aid Slicing

KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y. (AP)

—J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works, said today that, barring drastic reductions in federal aid, the state would continue its record building program through the 1960s.

McMorran said the pace was needed "to expedite the completion of expressways, arterials and other roads so necessary to a better, brighter future for the Empire state."

He made the remarks in a speech prepared for a meeting of the County Highway Superintendents Association of New York State.

Priest Succumbs

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — The Rev. Adelard E. Bouchard, 53, died Monday night, shortly after he was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital.

Father Bouchard had been pastor of the Shrine Church, Church of the Immaculate Conception at New Lebanon, in Columbia County.

He previously had served Roman Catholic churches in Cherry Valley, Albany, Cohoes, Oneonta, Schenectady and Glens Falls.

Suffocates Under Tipped Ensilage

SPENCER, N. Y. (AP)—Lloyd

Aman, 29, suffocated beneath an estimated three tons of ensilage Tuesday after his tractor trailer overturned on a county road near this Tioga County community.

Sheriffs deputies theorized that a pin connecting the trailer to the tractor snapped while traveling over the road, causing the trailer to over-run the tractor.

It was believed that the trailer overturned on Aman, trapping him after he had been thrown from the tractor. Death was caused by suffocation, the county coroner said.

Quill Rules Out Binding Talks For Pennsy Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union, said today he is ready to re-enter negotiations if asked in efforts to settle the Pennsylvania Railroad strike but that he never would agree to compulsory arbitration.

Both the TWU, which claims 15,000 non-operating employees on the PRR, and the System Federation Union, which has 5,000 men on strike, Tuesday turned down the railroad's offer for binding arbitration on three key issues involving work rules.

Quill listed two reasons why the TWU would not accept arbitration. "1. The strike was pre-judged by Mitchell (Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell) in the eyes of the American people."

Quill referred to Mitchell's statement on a Washington television news discussion program Sunday in which the labor secretary said the TWU president was unreasonable in his dispute with the PRR.

"2. Under the Railway Labor Act work rules are mediated and bargained out, never arbitrated."

Quill said that he polled his 46

locals by telephone Tuesday and they all were against compulsory arbitration—"no matter what."

Quill said he has postponed for a day or so a planned tour of the railroad's 13-state network which stretches from New York to St. Louis and includes the District of Columbia.

He said he did this at the request of Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth and federal mediators who asked him to stand by since they are pressing for a settlement.

Edward W. Wiesner, chief negotiator for the System Federation Union, said his group turned down the arbitration because it considered work rule issues "not proper for arbitration."

Wiesner and his group went back into session today to finish a report on "six proposals made previously by the railroad."

Quill has said the chief issue in the strike which has idled some 72,000 employees in all and shut down the entire system is job security. He wants the railroad to stop farming out repair work to what he claims are non-union shops. Also at issue are job classifications and a union jurisdictional problem. Wages are not an issue.

King Hits Both Dems, GOP for Rights Hypocrisy

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. accused Democrats and Republicans alike Tuesday night of hypocrisy on civil rights.

He also charged the government with lack of positive leadership on the issue.

"I must make it palpably clear," he said, "that the dearth of positive leadership from Washington is not confined to one political party. . . each of them has been willing to follow the long pattern of using the Negro as a political football."

Dr. King, a Negro leader who won national prominence by leading the successful bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala., several years ago, addressed a meeting in conjunction with the 50th anniversary of the National Urban League.

He criticized both major parties for having signed what he called "huge promissory notes" in their civil rights platforms, but leaving Negroes with "empty promises."

Declaring that both parties missed a great opportunity to show their good faith when they failed to pass civil rights legislation in the post-convention session of Congress, he said:

"Here we saw a vivid example of the same old game of hypocrisy, immoral compromises and political chicanery."

Dr. King also spoke out against "white Northern liberals" who show indignation over a lynching

2 Killed, Four Hurt in Tioga Two-Car Mishap

OWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—Two persons were killed and four others were injured Tuesday night when two automobiles collided on Route 17 approximately seven miles of this Tioga County village.

State Police said the two cars apparently crashed head-on. The dead were Julian Quiles, 40, of The Bronx and Leonard F. Simons, 34, of Straits Corners, Tioga County.

Simons' dog also was killed. Simons' wife, Betty, 34, was reported in very critical condition in Tioga General Hospital, Waverly. Quiles' wife, Santa, 37, was said to be in serious condition. The Quiles' daughter, Maria, 13, and Joaquim Acosta, 42, of The Bronx, were reported in satisfactory condition.

U.S. Seen Lagging Again On Truth About Defectors

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Once again Russia has forced this country to do what it did in the U2 spy case: admit the whole story only after the Soviets exposed it to the rest of the world.

This time it involves two young mathematicians—William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell—who defected to Russia from their jobs in the highly secret National Security Agency.

Could Remove Sting

It raises a question. Since this government could have taken the sting out of Russian propaganda by revealing the truth before the Russians had a chance to, why didn't it do so?

It failed in the same way when U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers and his plane were brought down over Russia last May. When Premier Nikita Khrushchev disclosed the downing, he said the plane had been spying.

Not knowing whether Khrushchev was guessing or could prove what he said, the State Department denied Powers was on a spy mission. As it turned out, Khrushchev had been merely baiting the trap for such a denial by withholding all he knew.

Then he announced Powers had been captured alive and admitted the spying. The State Department then admitted the spying, too.

Last Aug. 1 the Defense Department announced it was searching for Martin and Mitchell who were overdue after vacation, in their jobs at NSA, which is involved in very secret communications and codes.

Traced to Cuba

The department said the two men, both bachelors and long-time friends who had served in the Navy together in the mid-1950s, had flown to Mexico City June 24. They were traced to Cuba.

On Aug. 5 the Defense Department said "it must be assumed that there is a likelihood" that the two missing employees "have gone behind the Iron Curtain."

What the Pentagon didn't disclose until Tuesday—and then only when forced into it by Mitchell and Martin—was this:

Early in August government investigators had found in a safe deposit box, where Martin and Mitchell had left it, a letter saying they had defected to Russia.

Tuesday in Moscow the Russians, with a great propaganda whoopededoo, put the two Americans on exhibition at a news conference before Soviet and foreign newsmen.

The two code clerks, admitting they fled to Russia and expect to become Russian citizens, said the United States spies on its own allies. As an example, they mentioned Turkey. The Defense Department referred to their "false statements," but did not say which were false.

The pair read from what they said was a copy of a statement they had left in a safe deposit box, in Mitchell's name, in a Maryland bank in June.

Explanation Asked

On the envelope of the original statement, they said, they wrote a request that the contents be made public so that the American people would get an explanation of "why we decided to ask the Soviet Union to grant us political asylum."

Mitchell and Martin charged that the U.S. government took that statement and kept it secret because the "Eisenhower-Nixon administration does not wish certain aspects of its policies to become known to the American people."

Tuesday a Defense Department spokesman was asked why the government had kept this Mitchell-Martin letter under wraps since finding it in early August. He said it was a statement of "two turncoats," its publication would have served Communist purposes only, and it was part of an investigation.

New PSC Officer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—William E. Byron of Albany is the new administrative officer of the Public Service Commission.

Byron, who had been associate personnel administrator for the commission for seven years, was named Tuesday to the $9,744-a-year post.

A commission spokesman said the job was created because of an increasing work load.

Wrote Pledge

It is said that the original "Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag" was written by Francis Bellamy, or James E. Upham, or both together. The pledge became known to a widespread public by being printed in a magazine of which Upham was an owner and Bellamy a staff member.

Margaret A. Savage Admitted to College Of New Rochelle

Miss Margaret A. Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Savage, Ashokan has been admitted to the College of New Rochelle, New Rochelle.

A graduate of Academy of St. Ursula, this city, Miss Savage will participate in the orientation program planned for the 290 freshmen at CNR beginning on September 20. She is the recipient of an Honor Scholarship.

The first Catholic College for women chartered by the State of New York, New Rochelle will have its largest enrollment of over 290 students as it begins its 56th year with the Mass of the Holy Spirit on September 21.

The opening of the newly erected Mother Xavier Fitzgerald Hall, a building which combines the administration and Fine Arts Department, will be one of the main features of this scholastic year. It will be solemnly dedicated by His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman on October 22.

The College of New Rochelle, situated in Westchester County, at New Rochelle, New York, is an independent liberal arts college for women, conducted by the Ursuline nuns; the first teaching order for women in the Catholic Church. Founded in 1904 as the first Catholic women's college chartered by the State of New York, the college has grown from an enrollment of 9 to 950 students from 24 states and 10 foreign countries.

The College faculty numbers 77, evenly divided between religious and lay. The academic program offers 15 fields of concentration and provision is made for some students to study abroad during junior year.

To meet growing needs for new buildings, additional scholarships and lay faculty salary increases, the College of New Rochelle is now engaged in its first Development Program, with a goal of $2.5 million.

Initial response has made possible the erection of a senior dormitory and of a Fine Arts-Administration Building.

The College has graduated more than 6,400 students. CNR alumnae residents of every state in this country and 30 foreign countries are now leaders in the business, educational and professional fields.

WINNING PAINTINGS SELECTED — Accepting cash awards from Pratt Boice, center, president of the Ulster County Savings Institution, are William F. Edelmuth and Mrs. Hilda Markle, whose paintings were voted upon by area residents during a two-week exhibit at the bank. Mrs. Markle won first place and Mr. Edelmuth won third place. Voted into second place was Mrs. William Abernethy, not pictured. (Photo Workshop)

Madeline Fitzgerald Weds David Griffith At First Emmanuel Church; Exchange Rings

MR. AND MRS. DAVID R. GRIFFITH (Sterling photo)

In a double ring ceremony at First Emmanuel Church on Saturday, Aug. 27 at 3:30 p. m., Miss Madeline Carroll Fitzgerald of 81 Chambers Street, wed David Robert Griffith, of Millbrook.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Fitzgerald of Kingston. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Duke of Millbrook.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Reginald Lionel McHugh. Marco Reginald McHugh was organist.

White gladioli decorated the altar and formed archways for the bride and groom. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon and flowers.

Given in marriage by her brother, Donald Fitzgerald, the bride wore a floor length white gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle styled with an applied Peter Pan collar, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt of tulle and lace.

A queen's crown held a fingertip veil of French illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of long stemmed white roses.

Serving as maid of honor for her sister was Brenda Fitzgerald who wore a lavender colored gown similar style to that worn by the bride. She carried pink long stemmed roses.

Hilda Johnson of 51 Murray Street and Delores Broadhead, the bride's cousins, were the bridesmaids. They wore gowns of nylon chiffon over net and taffeta in ballerina length in colors of light green and blue. The gowns were styled with cowl necklines formed "V" backs, satin cummerbunds with back bustle and full skirts. They carried yellow and pink long stemmed roses.

The bride's nieces, India and Betty Fitzgerald served as flower girls in floor length gowns of lavender and turquoise styled with large puffed sleeves, and waisted bows. They carried baskets of white carnations.

John Gatewood of Millbrook, N. Y., served as best man while ushering were Alder Willis of Poughkeepsie and Edward Churchill of New York.

Michael Duke, the bridegroom's brother, was child ringbearer. A reception for approximately 300 guests was given at Lawton Park.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by Jackson and Sons, this city. Her husband, who attended school in Millbrook, served with the U. S. Army for three years and is employed by his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith will reside in Millbrook.

Gladys Koontz Weds Edwin E. Nelson Jr. At New Hurley Church

NEW HURLEY—Miss Gladys Louise Koontz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koontz of Homestead Avenue, Maybrook, became the bride of Edwin Emil Nelson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Emil Nelson Sr. of Wallkill Sunday, Aug. 21, at New Hurley Reformed Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Maid of honor was Miss Shirley Keller of Chester. The best man was Nelson, brother of the bridegroom. Raymond Nelson and Robert Garrison were the ushers.

Miss Carolyn Kniffen was the organist. The Rev. Leonard Jones of Franklin, N. J. performed the ceremony.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Maybrook.

Guests attending were from Maybrook, Walden, Newburgh, New Paltz, Deposit, Flushing, Wallkill, Chester, Salisbury Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jr. spent a week touring New York State. They will reside in Wallkill.

Gracious Living Is an Art That Anyone Can Acquire

A new finishing school is opening in Paris this fall that promises to teach a girl the art of gracious living for $4,000.

Says an American home economist:

"Any American girl who wants to learn how to live graciously can learn how right here at home for a lot less than $4,000."

"Most high schools have good courses in home economics where a girl can learn how to cook, entertain and select clothes with taste and discrimination."

"From public libraries she can take out books on painting, architecture and world history."

"If she will invest in classical records instead of popular music she can teach herself to appreciate good music."

"All but the smallest towns have occasional art exhibits, concerts, lectures and other forms of cultural entertainment available to anyone interested."

"The women's pages of our daily papers and our magazines devoted to home decoration offer excellent advice on furnishing a home."

"The art of gracious living is available to any young woman willing to study and learn and to take advantage of her opportunities."

That's all true, of course. American women have a wonderful opportunity to learn just about anything they want to know. It's just a matter of ambition and choice.

No young woman needs to envy the girl whose parents can afford to give them an expensive course in gracious living. With a little get-up-and-go any girl can teach herself whatever she wants to know about the art of gracious living.

The prime requisite isn't money but a desire to learn.

Fashion Newsletter for Men

For many years, there wasn't a proper hat to be worn with sports clothing, men fashion experts say. The authentic imported Tyrolean was available but, of rough velour and with overly-casual shape, it did not achieve maximum acceptance. It did have an influence, however, and the stores now have innumerable variations of it, in lighter weights and more flattering models. And these are just perfect to be worn with sportswear.

Cowboy star Gene Autry wears conventional formal attire on occasion (believe it or not!) but always wears cowboy boots with it! This might be a change of pace for the office brigade — don't you think?

Society's Ned McLean, and the film star Van Johnson like to wear bright red socks with their tuxedos! I don't suppose they're trying to get attention.

Film star Clark Gable was once flattered and amused by being named on a "Best dressed" list and a "Worst-Dressed" list within two weeks! And did you know that Jerry Lewis owns some shirts embroidered "Boy Comedian!" There's even a place on Broadway, New York City, that handpaints ties — right on your shirts!

Shelly Berman, the comedian, sick of sick comics who dress in baggy sweaters, has hired a valet and bought an enormous wardrobe — to make himself the "Adolph Menjou of comedy!"

In the etiquette category, you might be interested to know that in Peru, a gentleman always calls his date to find out what she is wearing so he can dress accordingly and send the proper flowers.

An odd item — Sammy Kaye cuts the fingers off his worn-out dress gloves and used the remainder as golf mitts.

Perhaps the happiest people today about the narrowing of men's hat brims are those connected with Hollywood. It seems it has been very difficult to light an actor's face under the broader hats.

Though you rarely see one these days, Troy, New York, was turning out more than a million starched collars a day, only 25 years ago!

Things are tough all over with the makers of top hats. First, President Eisenhower switched to a homburg for his inaugurations and now, lo and behold, the circus ringmasters have done the same!!

Historical note — tuxedos were originally known as "Coves" jackets in England. They didn't get their current name until introduced in this country at Tuxedo Park, N. Y. Bowler hats, or derbies, took their name from the original maker in London, Bowler & Jarrett. (If Bowler hadn't been the senior partner, we'd be calling them Jarretts!)

Fact — a man's shirt is made of 22 separate pieces of fabric and is sewn with thread that would stretch out longer than a football field.

Collar stays — if you need substitutes and can't find any use two of your wife's small bobby pins, a paper clip straightened out like an elongated "s," or wooden matchsticks cut to fit.

For your information — feet grow thin or fat as their owner expands and contracts. If your shoes ever feel tight, the best reducing treatment is a foot bath in Epsom salts . . . coat buttons should be anchored to the lining and inside facing. If you find yours are sewn to only the outside fabric, have them resewn at once to avoid stretching or tearing the cloth.

Newspapers are better than ever — when storing any clothes, wrap them in old newspapers. Moths and silverfish do not like newsprint!

Carol Ann Woods Weds Robert J. Hallberg, Double Ring Ceremony at Old Dutch Church

Miss Carol Ann Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wood of Hurley, exchanged nuptial vows with Robert J. Hallberg of Tacoma, Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett S. Hallberg of Westfield, Mass., on August 27 at 1 p. m.

The double ring ceremony took place at the Old Dutch Church in Kingston with the Rev. Arthur Oudemool officiating.

The church was decorated with vases filled with white gladioli and white mums. The family pews were marked with satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chiffon over taffeta the bodice of which featured a Sabrina scalloped neckline trimmed with Alencon lace set with pearls. The full skirt featured appliques of lace and pearls and fell into a chapel length train. The headpiece, a queen's crown, held a full fingertip silk illusion French veil. The bride carried a nosegay of white butterfly roses with carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Joan Marie Burhans of Croton-on-Hudson, served as maid of honor. She wore a romance blue gown of pure silk and French lace styled with three quarter sleeves. A crown held a short veil and she carried a nosegay of roses, carnations and delphinium.

The Misses Elizabeth and Louise C. Hallberg, sisters of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the honor attendant and they carried nosegays of yellow and white roses.

Lawrence S. Maxwell of Massachusetts was best man. Ushers were Arthur C. Griffiths, the bridegroom's uncle, Brockton, Mass., and David O'Neil of Darien, Conn., the bridegroom's cousin.

A reception was given at the Nieuw Dorp in Hurley. A graduate of Kingston High School, the bride completed her junior at New York State College of Education at New Paltz. Her husband was graduated from Westfield High School, Westfield, Mass., and is a field engineer for IBM.

For her wedding trip to Washington, the bride wore a green and grey print knitted sheath with grey accessories and a corsage of white pompons. The couple plan to reside in Tacoma, Wash.

Grandma Moses Keeps Laughing To Live Longer

EAGLE BRIDGE, N. Y. (AP)—The century mark arrived today for beloved Grandma Moses, and, with a twinkle in her hazel eyes, she reports:

"I'm going to live to be 200." The diminutive, still active painter, whose primitive rural scenes are known around the world, also promises to keep laughing.

That is one of her rules for staying young: Keep busy, keep in young company and keep laughing.

Although Grandma's 100th birthday was today, she celebrated it last Sunday so that working friends and family members could participate in the festivities. There were 125 visitors, each greeted by Grandma at a dining-room table stacked with greetings from many lands.

The fragile-seeming, white-haired, 100-pound bundle of fun, who began painting when in her 70s is considered in good condition by her doctor.

Her party was held at the home of her son Forrest, where she now lives near this community close to the Vermont line.

Today was Grandma Moses Day in New York State, by proclamation of Gov. Rockefeller.

On Sept. 12, there will be another observance in New York City. Forty-five of her paintings will be exhibited at the I.B.M. gallery.

Grandma, whose full name is Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses, still paints daily and reads the newspapers. She's somewhat put out with talk of rian's traveling in space.

"He's a durned fool," she says. "The Lord put us on earth, and we should stay here until he comes after us. They're spending money for those space things, while lots of people are freezing and starving for want of money. It's a foolish piece of business."

Dems Will Back GOP Judge Fuld But Not Foster

NEW YORK (AP)—It looks as though state Democrats will back one Republican judge on the Court of Appeals for a new term, but not another.

State Democratic Chairman Michael H. Prendergast said Tuesday party leaders have "no inclination" to endorse Judge Sidney F. Foster of Liberty, who holds an interim appointment from Gov. Rockefeller.

Prendergast did indicate, however, that the party would back Judge Stanley H. Fuld of Manhattan for another term.

The two seats are the only ones on the state's highest tribunal up for a vote this year. There has been speculation that Foster would get bipartisan support.

The Democratic and Republican judicial conventions meet in Albany Monday.

'21 Beauty Heads Pageant Parade

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Recent and not so recent Miss Americas paraded along the boardwalk Tuesday night as 150,000 spectators watched the preliminaries of the 1960 beauty and talent pageant.

The parade was led by Margaret Gorman Cahill, who was the first Miss America in 1921.

As a winner in that year, Mrs. Cahill rode in a rolling chair in a modest procession. She won her title from a handful of girls from cities in this area.

Tuesday night she sat atop a float decked with 50,000 roses in her role as grand marshal of the parade.

Eleven former Miss Americas participated in the parade as a salute to this year's reunion of Mu Alpha Sigma, the Miss America sorority composed of former contestants.

This year's Miss America—Lynda Lee Mead—sat atop a motorized float depicting a Cinderella scene in a castle garden. The Cinderella story is the theme of this year's pageant.

There are 54 girls in the contest, representing every state in the union as well as Canada and the cities of New York, Chicago and Washington.

A few minutes after midnight Saturday one of them will be crowned Miss America, win a $10,000 scholarship and net another $50,000 from personal appearances during the year of her reign.

Damage Put at $540,000

15 Firemen Overcome Battling Albany Blaze

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A stubborn, smoky general alarm fire that burned until early today wrecked a six-story commercial building in downtown Albany.

Fifteen firemen, including a battalion chief, were overcome by smoke. Three were hospitalized for observation.

Damage to the Wander Building was estimated at $540,000. The cause of the fire, which apparently started in a sandwich shop on the ground floor, was not determined immediately.

Parts of the coping of the brick building fell into the street, damaging several parked automobiles.

South Pearl Street, a main north-south artery, was blocked. Traffic officials planned to reroute rush-hour morning traffic.

A movie theater separated from the Wander Building by an alley was evacuated shortly after the first alarm at 8 p. m. Tuesday night. Within an hour, nearly all the fire apparatus in the city had surrounded the building.

No one was in the building when the fire broke out, Police said.

The top floors were offices. Several had been vacant since the State Education Department moved several of its bureaus to the annex to the Education Building. The others were rented by state agencies.

In addition to the sandwich shop, a dry cleaner, a travel bureau and a shoe store occupied ground-floor stores.

Three Improving At Vassar, Hurt In Fatal Crash

Three persons injured in a collision Sunday which took the life of an Alsen woman were reported improving today at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

They were hurt in a two-car collision on Route 44-55 between the Highland traffic circle and the Mid-Hudson Bridge Sunday afternoon, an accident in which Mrs. Frederick Martens Sr., 49, suffered injuries which resulted in her death 90 minutes later at the hospital.

Reported in fair condition today was Martin Pracht, 78, and in satisfactory condition were Frederick Martens Sr., 50, and Frederick Jr., 11. Martens and Pracht each received a broken leg and other injuries and the boy a concussion.

The car operated by Martens, proceeding downgrade toward

Schuler to Serve On Public Works For Another Term

Acting Mayor Harold L. Kaye today announced the reappointment of Commissioner of Public Works Raymond J. Schuler, 198 East Chester Street, whose present term expires Thursday.

The new term will terminate on Sept. 8, 1964. Other commissioners are Attorney N. Jansen Fowler, whose term expires on Sept. 8, 1961; John W. Lawson, whose term terminates on Sept. 8, 1962; and Emanuel Colao, whose appointment expires on Sept. 8, 1963.

The acting mayor officially notified the Common Council of the reappointment of Commissioner Schuler.

The bridge, skidded on wet pavement on a curve and spun into the path of a car operated by Harry Powers Jr., 38, of Newburgh, proceeding uphill. Powers received a laceration of the forehead.

'Strong Urge to Kill' Man Leads Police To Bodies of Two

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—"I guess you fellows have got me," a wispy optical technician told two policemen. "I might as well tell you I killed some women. Sometimes I have a very strong urge to kill."

Seemingly mild-mannered Henry Adolph Busch, 23, then led officers Tuesday to the bodies of two women, admitted the strangling of a third woman last May and said he had planned to kill two others.

"There's a body in my apartment and another one over at the building my mother owns," Busch blurted, grinning, when arrested after a woman fled his grasp.

In his bachelor apartment, the officers found the nearly nude, knife-mutilated body of Shirley Payne, 65, stuffed in a sleeping bag.

A few blocks away in a building owned by his foster mother, they found the nude, slashed body of Margaret Briggs, 53, who became his aunt when he was adopted at 6.

It was he, Busch said, who last

May 1 strangled Elmyra Miller, 74, in her apartment.

Busch said he strangled Mrs. Payne early Sunday and Mrs. Briggs Monday night. Why?

"All I know is that I sometimes have a very strong urge to kill," said the hawk-faced, bespectacled six-footer who weighs 140 pounds.

Busch, dishonorably discharged from the Army in 1955, was described as "an excellent lens polisher" at the optical laboratory where he worked and as "very quiet" by his landlady, Elynore Riley.

It was he, Busch said, who last

Women's Day

Rocky's Wife Is Guest at Fair

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Today was women's day at the New York State Fair with Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, wife of the governor, as guest of honor.

Rockefeller was due to fly here later this afternoon to appear at the state fair farm dinner tonight. The governor will tour the fair Thursday—Governor's Day.

Forty-five flying farmers, from across the state, joined Mrs. Rockefeller as guests of the fair. The farmers flew into Hancock Field this morning and were taken by bus to the fair.

Tuesday, 44,275 persons passed through the turnstiles. This brought total attendance for the first five days to 357,230, about 4,000 ahead of last year's record pace. A total of 517,776 attended the nine-day exposition a year ago.

Mrs. Rockefeller planned to take part in a panel discussion of "Women and the Arts" and appear at a luncheon.

West Nyack Man Is Drowning Victim

GREENVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—Salvatore Dell'Olivo, 28, of West Nyack, Rockland County, was drowned Tuesday in a swimming pool near this Greene County community south of Albany.

Dell'Olivo, his wife and three children were vacationing at a boarding house. He went swimming in the house pool and his wife later found his body floating, face down. Coroner Benjamin Miller gave a verdict of accidental death.

United States Relay Team Gains Olympic Semi-Finals

To Meet Armstrong's Tonight

Anchorage Rest in City League Softball Finals After 8-6 Win

Mike Boyle Checks Nadler's in Third Game of Semi-Finals

Scoring in their last three batting turns, Anchorage Rest players vaulted into the finals of the City Softball League playoffs with an 8-6 triumph over regular season champion Nadler's last night at the Stadium.

The finals in the circuit's playoffs will get underway tonight at 7 with Anchorage playing Armstrong's Bar and Grill in the first game of a best-of-three series.

Mike Boyle went the distance for the winners to record his 14th win of the season. He had batting help from Bob Jennings, who came through with clutch hits on two different occasions. Ted Beland supplied the defensive heroics with a shoestring catch for the last out of the game.

The regular season champions took a 2-0 lead off Boyle in the third inning but were never ahead after the fourth when Anchorage scored four times. The winners added two more in each of the fifth and sixth frames while Nadler's made a belated bid with three runs in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Loser W. C. Lindsey was hurt by his own control. He walked seven batters and allowed only five hits — all singles.

The box score:

Liston, Machen To Fight Tonight

SEATTLE (AP) — Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., and Sonny Liston of Philadelphia clash tonight in a 12-round bout which will put the victory — both fighters hope — on the threshold of a crack at Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight title.

"I believe public opinion will insist upon a title chance for the winner," Sid Flaherty, Machen's manager, said today. Liston is rated No. 1 among the contenders; Machen No. 2.

Liston, weighing around 212 pounds and equipped with an 86-inch reach, holds the role of favorite because of his size and reputation for quick knockouts.

Machen, with a 75-inch reach only about 196 pounds, figures his chances will brighten if he can fend off the Liston fists through the early rounds.

The nationally televised scrap will go on at 8 p.m. (9 p.m. EST), sending most fans directly from their offices to the baseball field where the ring is set up at the pitcher's mound.

Davis Boys Lead 1,600-Meter Squad With Fast Laps

By TED SMITH Associated Press Sports Editor

ROME (AP) — The United States' 1,600-meter relay team, featuring the gold medal-winning Davis boys, flashed into the semi-finals at the Olympic Games today but America's field prestige took another heavy blow when world record holder Bill Alley of Short Hills, N.J., failed to qualify for the javelin finals.

Otis Davis of Los Angeles, who won the 400-meter run in world record time Tuesday, and 400-meter hurdles champion Glenn Davis of Columbus, Ohio, triggered the 1,600-meter relay quartet into the afternoon semifinals. Jack Yerman and Earl Young ran the two other legs for Uncle Sam's foursome which won the last of four qualifying heats eased up in 3 minutes, 10.4 seconds.

Had Three Attempts Alley, 6-foot-3, 222-pound former Kansas University star, had three attempts to top the qualifying minimum of 242 feet, 9 3/4 inches but the best he could manage was 225-3/4. His record record, set recently in an Olympic warm-up meet, is 283-3/4.

Thirteen of the 28 competitors matched or passed the qualifying minimum for Thursday's final, seven from the first group and six from the second.

Al Cantello, Norristown, Pa., hit 261-5/8 on his third and last attempt to avert a U.S. whitewash in the preliminaries. The third American entry, Terry Beucher, Overland Park, Kan., didn't make it.

The fastest time of the 12 qualifiers for the 1,600-meter relay semifinals was turned in by the British West Indies quartet. Anchored by Illinois star George Kerr, they won the second heat in 3:08.1. Other heat winners were Germany in 3:10.5, and Switzerland in 3:10.7.

One American, Neomia Roger of Roba, Ala., was among the 15 qualifiers for the women's high jump finals. Miss Rogers cleared the qualifying height of 5-5 on her second try. The two other Americans, Barbara Brown, New York, and Jean Geartner, Los Angeles, missed out at 5-1.

Other Competition Competition also began in the individual equestrian jumping event and George Morris, New Canaan, Conn., and Hugh Wiley, Towson, Md., were up among the leaders.

Two Americans and Australia's Herb Elliott gave 40,000 track fans their money's worth in a day of incredible performances Tuesday.

Otis Davis of Los Angeles, an active competitor for only two years, won the 400-meter dash in the world record time of 44.9 seconds. Germany's Karl Mannmann made it almost a dead heat with a finishing lunge that almost caught the flying American.

The old world record was 45.2, set four years ago by America's Lou Jones.

Elliott, the world record holder for the mile and metric mile broke his world standard for the 1,500 meters in 3 minutes, 35.6 seconds. Elliott's old record of 3:36 was set in 1956. He was an incredible 15 meters ahead of the field at the tape and pulled the next five finishers under the former Olympic park of 3:41.2 set at Melbourne four years ago by Ireland's Ron Delany.

Dryol Burleson, Cottage Grove, Ore., who finished sixth in the nine-man field, was timed in 3:40.9. Jim Grelle of, Portland, Ore., was eighth.

Johnson Wins Decathlon The United States had another ace in the wings, and he came in under the floodlights. He was Rafer Johnson, the California strongman who set an Olympic record with 8,392 points for a slim edge over his long-time friend, Chuang Yang of Formosa and UCLA. Yang finished with 8,334 points, 58 points behind.

Johnson, from Kingsburg, Calif., the world record holder with 8,683 points, had to come from behind in the discus, the second event of the day and seventh in the 10-event torture.

Russia's Vasily Kuznetsov was third with 7,809 points.

The third world record of the day went to Poland's Josef Schmidt with a mark of 55 feet, 1 1/4 inches in the hop, step and jump. The old record was 54-9/16 by Russia's O. Pedeseev. Ira Davis of Philadelphia was fourth with 53-10.

Russia Still Leads The United States still trailed in the unofficial over-all team point tabulation. Russia had 44 1/2 to 41 1/2 for the U.S.

U.S. entries pulled surprises in yachting and freestyle wrestling. The Minotaur, skippered by George O'Day of Dover, Mass., clinched a gold medal in the 5.5-meter class of the regatta.

Three Oklahomans broke Turkey's domination in wrestling — lightweight Shelby Wilson and welterweight Doug Blubaugh, both of Ponca City, and bantamweight Terry McCann of Tulsa.

Nancy Scheterer Hits 425 Series in Booster Nancy Scheterer had 425 sticks on games of 158-125-142 to lead the Ladies Booster League at the Bowlerama. Others were Virginia Anderson 422, Janet Crosswell 407, Pat Manley 406, Grace Melville 418 and Virginia Bryant 404.

Team results: Roosa's Taxi 2, Manor Beauty Shop 1; Team Nine 3, Team Ten 0; Trojan Vending Co. 3, Team Five 0; Krom and Canavan 2, Team Four 1; Team Seven 2, Team Eight 1.

Hohnhorst, Ageless Seniors Champ Defends Title Sunday

Like the pros used to chase

Ben Hogan, the Ulster County Class A Seniors field is in perennial pursuit of Harry Hohnhorst, the white maned Woodstock Country Club shooter.

With only one exception, Hohnhorst has been Class A champion of the county Seniors since the tournament originated in 1953.

In 1958 the seniors created a new Class A division for golfers 75 years and older. Hohnhorst led Class B that year with a 91 and the Class A honors went to one of his old cronies, Bruff Olin, with a 98.

The widely known artist, whose murals decorate all three area golf clubs, moved into the Class A field last year and fired an 87 to regain first place in the greybeard division.

Hohnhorst set the all-time Class A tournament record in 1957 when he toured Woodstock Country Club in a pair of 39's for 78. He won the event in 1954 with an 85 and finished a stroke behind Harold F. King of Twaalfskill with a 64 in a special 13-hole affair at Twaalfskill in 1955.

King Persistent Rival The perennial champion resumed his winning ways in 1956 with a 48 for the 12-hole competition at Wiltwyck, where the tournament was staged on the front nine and the 10th, 11th and 18th holes of the back nine. The record breaker followed the next year at Woodstock.

Hohnhorst faces six challengers in this year's Class A field and his most persistent pursuer over the years has been Harold F. King. Others include Rodney F. Osterhout, who will be the oldest player in the field at 81; Carl Preston, the southpaw swinger who is 79; Leon Forst, Bruff Olin (78), Frank Benson (76).

King finished in third place behind Hohnhorst and Olin in 1956, won low net honors with a 63 in 1957, was runnerup to Hohnhorst in 1958.

Deadline for entries for the eighth annual event is Thursday midnight. The tournament, dedicated to Rodney B. Osterhout, gets under way at 9 a. m. Sunday at Woodstock Country Club.

Fred Schryver Raps 558 String

Fred Schryver rolled 558, with 156-213-189, to edge Ed Murphy 207-557 by a single stick for high score honors in the Kingston Booster League.

Al McCord decked 212, Ed Kiernan 540, Harold Gruenwald 512, Carl Thurin 510, Bob Slicker 529, Bill Dutcher 201-533, George Gardecki 521, John Stote 225-504, Jim Fulwell 207-527, Jack Dawkins Jr. 518, Glenn DeBrosky 525, Don Carr 220, Larry Snyder 521.

Team results: Yacht Club Rest 0, Ten Grand 3; 41 Club 1, Morgan's 2; Avella's Two 0, Ginger's 3; Amell's 2, Nardi's Oilers 1; Avella's One 1, Kingston Glass 2; Moose Two 2, Montwards 1; Kingston Oil Supply 3, Moose One 0; Walt's Barbers 2, Bruchholz Market 1; Bonnie's 1, Greenkill Rest 2.

Greys, Springfield Lead Eastern Playoffs By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Williamsport and Springfield each held 1-0 leads today in the best two-out-of-three semi-final Eastern League playoff series for the Governor's Cup.

The Grays, champions of the regular season play, edged Reading 1-0 Tuesday night with the lone run coming in the ninth. Pitcher Jerry Kettle crossed the plate on a single by Ted Savage, who collected two of Williamsport's three hits off loser Ron Taylor. Kettle also gave up three hits.

Springfield defeated Binghamton 2-0 in another pitching battle. Southpaw Dick LeMay, though complaining of a sore arm, shut out the Triplets with four hits and didn't allow a runner past second. Hal Reniff, the starter, was charged with the loss.

Rett Williams Wins Sangi's Mixed Crown

Rett Williams Texaco won 27 games and lost only 12 to win the Sangi's Mixed Foursome championship. Second place Wilber Fuel was second with a 25-14 mark.

Frank Grimaldi averaged 201-10 in 35 games to take individual high for the men. Evelyn Gross had a 180-21 in 39 games for women's individual honors.

Skytop had an 860 for high single without handicap and Wilbur Heating had 801 for high with handicap. Individual highs were Dick Howard 258 and Nell Alverson 257 and Harry Wilber 681 and Terry Beckert 612.

Groat Lost to Bucs for Month Birds Open 11-Game Road Trip

Hope to Pad Lead Against Chisox, Yanks in AL Race

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
With Chicago's defending champion White Sox awash, and the New York Yankees stumbling, the first-place Baltimore Orioles open an 11-game road trip tonight that could settle the American League pennant scrap.

The Baby Birds, taking off with a 1½-game lead, start the 12-day run in Cleveland and end it with four games at Yankee Stadium.

In between, the Orioles play two at Chicago, one at Kansas City and two at Detroit. Thus far, they've had a 23-12 record in the West.

Yanks Bow 7-1

The second-place Yankees lost a half-game to the idle Orioles Tuesday, taking a 7-1 walloping from the Boston Red Sox. It was the Yankees' fifth loss in seven games. The third-place White Sox fell 4½ games behind in a 3-2, ninth-inning loss at Kansas City. Cleveland defeated Detroit 10-8 on Ken Aspromonte's two-run homer in the 10th inning in the only other AL game.

Right-hander Billy Muffett won his fifth for the Red Sox with a three-hitter. He had the Yankees shut out on two singles until Mickey Mantle hit his 32nd home run with two out in the ninth.

Williams Hits HR

The Red Sox tagged Eli Grba (3-4) with the defeat, building a 5-0 lead in the first five frames. Pumpsie Green started it with a leadoff, inside-the-park home run in the first inning. Ted Williams bagged it with a three-run shot in the fifth—his 26th home run of the season and No. 518 lifetime. Kansas City made it two straight over the White Sox with two runs in the ninth on Hank Bauer's bases-loaded single. Ken Johnson (4-9) was the winner in relief.

Woodie Held hit a two-run homer for the Tribe, his 20th, and Tito Francona drove in four runs with a single and two doubles among the Indians' 16 hits. The Tigers had 15 hits, but were blanked over the last four innings by winning reliever Frank Funk (2-0).

Tigers Pay Rocky To Hit Singles

DETROIT (AP).—Rocky Colavito, whom the Detroit Tigers acquired for his slugging ability, is getting paid not to drive the ball out of the park.

The big outfielder is getting an extra $1,000 for curbing his home run output in favor of a fatter batting average.

The deal originally was made by Frank Lane when Colavito was with the Cleveland Indians. It was honored by the Tigers.

Bill Dewitt, Detroit president, said Colavito already has the money.

Colavito hit 42 homers last year and has 28 this season with some 20 games remaining.

Lane, Cleveland's general manager, confirmed he offered the outfielder "an extra $1,000 if he didn't hit 40 home runs in 1960."

Lane said he made the proposal in an effort to boost Colavito's batting average of .257 last year. He's now hitting .254.

John Gabler Zips Jersey City, 1-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

John Gabler is the culprit in Jersey City's playoff plans today.

The Richmond right-hander gave the Reds only one hit Tuesday night in winning 2-0. The loss left JC in fifth place in the International League, a half game behind fourth-place Buffalo, which lost to Montreal 6-5 in 10 innings, as the two continue their torrid struggle for the last playoff spot before the season concludes Sunday.

Rip Coleman upped Toronto's record shutout performances to 32 with a 1-0 whitewashing of Rochester while Columbus defeated Miami 7-3.

Ray Shearer's infield single, a slow roller to second base leading off the third inning, was the only Jersey City hit off Gabler (4-4).

Star Shortstop Hit In Left Wrist by Braves' Burdette

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Can Pittsburgh make it without Dick Groat?

Despite a seven-game lead with only 21 games left to play, the Pirates' bid for their first National League pennant in 33 years suffered a stiff jolt Tuesday night when Groat, their sparkling shortstop, was sidelined for the rest of the season with a broken left wrist.

Groat, a top contender for the NL's Most Valuable Player award, was struck on the wrist by a slider from Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette in the first inning of the Pirates' comeback, 5-3 victory over the Braves.

Schofield Gets Job

With Groat, runner-up in the NL bat race with a .325 average to Norm Larker's .331 for Los Angeles, out of business, the shortstop job falls to Dick Schofield, the one-time $40,000 bonus baby of the St. Louis Cardinals who has spent his time on the bench with a big glove and a small bat.

The Cardinals move into Forbes Field for their final shot at the Pirates tonight. They took over second place while idle Tuesday as the Braves, now 7½ games behind, dropped their second decision in the three-game set at Pittsburgh. Los Angeles beat San Francisco 7-0, and Cincinnati won 6-1 at Philadelphia in 10 innings.

The Pirates, after blowing a 2-0 lead, battled back and beat Warren Spahn for the second time in two days. The Milwaukee left-hander, now 17-9, couldn't retire a man when he came on in relief of Burdette in the eighth with a 3-2 lead. Dick Stuart and Roberto Clemente greeted the southpaw ace with consecutive doubles that tied it, and Smokey Burgess then followed with a single for a clinching 4-3 lead.

Mickey Vernon, recently switched from coach to the active roster, delivered a pinch single off reliever Ron Piche to make it a three-run inning.

Drysdale Wins

Right-hander Don Drysdale (13-13) won his seventh in a row at the Los Angeles Coliseum—where he said no one could win—with a six-hitter. He struck out eight, walked none.

Norm Larker's fourth home run, with a man on, defeated Georges Maranda (1-4) in the first inning. The Dodgers, helped by one of Willie Mays' frequent errors, scored their other five in the third on Gil Hodges' three-run double and a two-run triple by Drysdale.

Five singles and Ted Lepcio's error on a doubleplay ball gave the Reds five in the 10th at Philadelphia and beat Johnny Buzhardt (4-14). Jim Brosnan (7-2) was the winner in relief.

Groat Injury

Serious Blow To Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP).—Shortstop Dick Groat, the sparkplug of the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, will be lost for the rest of the season because of a broken left wrist.

Groat was hurt Tuesday night while batting against Lew Burdette, right-hand ace of the Milwaukee Braves. He was hit by a pitched ball.

Groat, who gained fame as an All-America basketball player before coming off the Duke University campus to join the Pirates, didn't believe at first the injury was serious. He stayed in the Pirates clubhouse, getting ice pack treatment until after the game.

As the Bucs ran into the clubhouse, celebrating a three-run eighth-inning rally which gave them a 5-3 victory over the Braves, Groat stood at the door and shook the head of each teammate.

His wrist was swathed in a big bandage but Groat said: "I don't think the wrist is broken—but I'm going to the hospital to get it X-rayed just the same."

General Manager Joe Brown was visibly shaken as he announced a short time later that Groat's wrist was broken.

Groat has been battling for the league batting championship. He was hitting at a .325 clip—second in the National League—and riding an 11-game hitting streak.

Burdette said the pitch was a slider and "it just got away from me. I threw it too fast, I guess."

Groat, a top contender for the NL's Most Valuable Player award, was struck on the wrist by a slider from Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette in the first inning of the Pirates' comeback, 5-3 victory over the Braves.

Richardson Is Feared In Tennis Tournament

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP).—The most feared player in the National Tennis Championships was sitting at a Wall Street desk today, deeply involved in the high finance of stocks and bonds.

His name is Hamilton Richardson. He's 27 and an ex-U. S. Davis Cupper. He takes his tennis in small doses these days while working as a customer's man among the bulls and bears of the big street.

But Tuesday, he scored the biggest upset in the tournament, eliminating Roy Emerson, Australian Davis Cupper, 3-6, 6-4, 9-7, 8-6.

The victory immediately brought up the logical question: If he can beat the Aussies as a weekend player, couldn't he do it in the Davis Cup?

Answer: Not interested. "There's no pressure on me now," said the unseeded Richardson, who walked out on the Davis Cup team in a feud with then-captain Perry Jones two years ago.

"If I win, great. And if I lose, I'm just a weekend player." Top-seeded Neale Fraser of Australia, the defending champion, and Earl (Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis, seeded No. 4, both advanced. Fraser downed Gerald Moss of Miami Beach 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. Buchholz eliminated Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

Maria Bueno of Brazil, the defending champion and seeded No. 1, led the way into the quarter-finals of the women's division with a 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Barbara Browning of Burbank, Calif.

Team results: Chez Emile 2, Capri 1; New Marketing 1, Shamrock Tavern 2; Herzog Supply 1, Zeeh's Beverages 2; Vanderlyn Battery 2, Haber's Grill 1.

Y Basketball Meeting Slated

The initial organizational meeting of the YMCA fall basketball league will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Y. All team representatives, players and officials are requested to attend.

Dick Case, YMCA physical director who is league director, expects another banner season. Team vacancies are limited and applications will be accepted on a first come, first serve basis.

Andy Juhl is league president; Lafayette (Champ) Holstein, vice president; George Uhl, treasurer; and Case, secretary.

Photograph Used In Extortion Try On Two AL Umps

ODENTON, Md. (AP).—Ed Runge says a photograph taken of himself and another American League umpire, Bill McKinley, with two women in a motel room, was used in an extortion attempt.

Runge told a magistrate's hearing Tuesday that he and McKinley had been in the motel room in suburban Washington, D.C., "no time at all—five to 10 minutes" Aug. 28 when two men "broke in and took a picture."

The umpire identified Donald E. Anderson, 32, and Robert O. Waldron, 30, both of Washington, already charged with attempted extortion, as the men who took the picture.

Magistrate J. Nelson Clark held Anderson, Waldron and one of the women in a total of $12,500 bail for action of the grand jury which convenes Oct. 17.

Anderson and Waldron are charged with trying to extort $2,000 from the umpires. Mary Jane Spencer, 21, a dancer from Suitland, Md., was charged with aiding in the extortion plot.

Another dancer, Helen I. Ela, 24, of Washington, was released in $500 bail as a material witness.

U. S. Picked in Relay Events At Track and Field Finish

By BERT NELSON

ROME (AP) — Wind-up of the Olympic track and field program on Friday, except for Saturday's marathon, includes both relays, javelin, and the 10,000 meters and honors should be divided among at least three countries.

The United States should, according to my predictions, wind up the games with a pair of relay victories. But the slightest slip will bring defeat.

In both the 400-meter and 1600-meter relay the Americans have the best individuals. In the shorter race, though, baton passing is all important and American relay quartets are not noted for the quality of their stickwork.

This time we will need teamwork as well to hold off German flyers, headed by Olympic 100-meter champ Armin Hary. For the bronze medal I like Great Britain, anchored by Peter Radford.

The U.S. margin is greater in the 1600 event. The likely team of 400-meter runners Earl Young, Otis Davis and Jack Yerman, plus anchorman Glenn Davis, is fully capable of breaking Jamaica's world record of 3:03.9.

And so Germany, anchored by swift Carl Kaufmann. The West Indies quartet will be tough, with Great Britain and South Africa also in the fight.

Javelin Is Wide

Possibly the most wide open event of the games is the javelin with half a dozen capable of winning. Once strong favorites, the U.S. pair of Bill Atley and world recordman Al Cantello now are outshown by their European rivals.

Top man in my book will be Janusz Sidlo, a durable Pole. His most severe threat, and picked for second, is Italy's own Carlo Livore.

A great 10,000 meter race is in store. It will pit the 3000-meter steeplechase winner, Zdzislaw Krzyszkowiak of Poland, against the 5000-meter victor, Murray Whalberg of New Zealand.

I like Krzyszkowiak. He is very strong and was in top form in the steeplechase where he handled a top class field with ease.

Davis Only American Male Medal Winner in a Flat Race

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — A year ago, Otis Davis never even dreamed he would be a member of the U.S. Olympic team.

Now the 28-year-old ex-GI from the University of Oregon owns the Olympic gold medal for the 400-meter run and the world record of 44.9 seconds after only two years of running.

To make fact even more stranger than fiction, the virtual unknown is the only American male to win a championship in these 17th Olympic Games in a flat race.

Flat races up to 800 meters once were a Yankee monopoly. But it took a newcomer to give Uncle Sam his first running gold medal after the titles in the 100, 200 and 800 meters were wrested from American control.

Davis, a lean, wiry basketball-player-turned-runner, beat Germany's Carl Kaufmann by a whisker in the 400-meter final Tuesday.

It was so close that both were clocked in .44.9. That eclipsed American Lou Jones' world record of .45.2, set in 1956, and the Olympic record of .45.3, established by Davis in the semifinals.

Davis, from Los Angeles, didn't start running competitively until he went to Oregon on a basketball scholarship. He was only a reserve and he got tired of sitting on the bench. He turned to track and tried high jumping.

He didn't go too well, and he turned to sprinting.

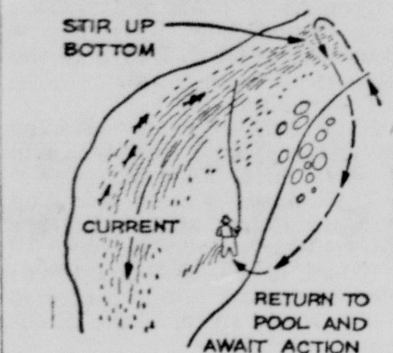

Oregon Coach Bill Bowerman made a 400-meter runner out of him a year ago. He barely made the Olympic team, finishing third in the trials.

over Ronald Drowns, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. The matches were completed with the others in the first round.

The opening of the women's singles play saw Mrs. Ambrose Boyd defeat Carol Blackwell 6-2, 6-0, 6-2; Kitty Fowler win over Pat Woinski, 6-0, 6-0; Mrs. Frances Sainsbury beat Mrs. Ronald Drowns, 6-3, 6-1 and Mrs. Ernest Shute top Lucille Clark, 6-0, 6-0.

Second round matches are scheduled for this weekend.

Action in City Net Tournament To Be Continued

This year's Kingston City Tennis tournament looms as an open affair without Marty Kaye. The defending champion did not enter this time and the singles title is up for grabs among several outstanding players.

Four players have advanced to the quarter-finals of the men's singles. They include George Baron, the IBM singles champion; Herban Folkerts of Phoenicia, Pete Zech and Dick Little of Kingston.

Two of the best matches played over the weekend were Joe Hevesis over Vince Pehling, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, and Ed Lindhurst

Johnson Is Satisfied With Win in Decathlon

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — It took Rafer Johnson 26 hours to win an Olympic gold medal similar to the one Armin Hary of Germany grabbed in 10.2 seconds.

Johnson, a giant Negro from Kingsburg, Calif., won his medal in the decathlon, the 10-event killer competition that decides an all-around champion. Hary won his in the 100-meter dash.

"Winning this compensates for every ounce of energy and every hour of time I put into it," said Johnson.

"There is satisfaction in putting your body and mind to a great test and coming through. I get far more satisfaction out of this, than I would from winning a single event, although the overall reward is the same."

Johnson came through in the two-day decathlon series Tuesday, edging Formosa's Chuang Yang, a student buddy at UCLA, and the Soviet Union's Vasily Kuznetsov in the classic event of the Olympic Games.

Johnson, a silver medal winner in 1956 behind the now retired Yank, Milt Campbell, realized his lifetime ambition when he won the gold medal by a 58-point margin. It took a superhuman effort in the final event of the program, the 1,500-meter run, for the 6-3, 200-pound star to pull off his greatest triumph.

Johnson finished with 8,392 points, an Olympic record. Yang totaled 8,344 and Kuznetsov 7,809.

The final event was run off under floodlights before only a scattering of fans.

Near exhaustion, Johnson ran the 1,500 in 4:49.7, well below his previous best, but good enough to stand off the challenges of his formidable rivals.

In 36 hours he had only five hours of sleep. He started the grind Monday morning, and continued it until near midnight after a violent rainstorm had interrupted the program.

He had to rise Tuesday at 6 a. m. and begin again. The decathlon ended some 15 hours later.

Frank Schneider Wins First Place at Ontario Speedway

Second place went to Bill Deskovitch, of Hanover, N. J. Whip Mulligan finished third, and Walt Schubert of Gold Spring, fourth. West Shokan's Don Avery provided a good drive to wind up fifth.

Harold Wood of Ellenville took the companion piece, a 15-lap event for strictly stocks. Harry North of West Shokan grabbed the second spot in the added attraction, and Roger Hornbeck of Kerhonkson finished third.

A capacity crowd at the picturesque Catskill Mountain auto-thrill haven watched tensely as Deskovitch, Tasnady and Mulligan captured the three qualifying 10-lap races in that respective order.

Vernon Quick of Kerhonkson and North grabbed first respective places in the two, five-lap heats for the "strictly-stock" class.

President Raymond Davis of Ontario Speedway has promised a return battle between Schneider and Tasnady in the near future.

Church Unit Has Both Praise and Scorn for Jack

WASHINGTON (AP) — A predominantly Protestant organization both praised and criticized today the stand of Democratic presidential nominee John F. Kennedy on various church-state issues.

Kennedy's record on that score was analyzed in a statement issued by Protestants and other Americans United for separation of church and state (POAU). Describing itself as a nonpartisan educational group, it said its action involved no bigotry or prejudice.

It did not mention Kennedy by name, but referred to "the candidate of Roman Catholic faith."

In a related but not connected development, another group of Protestant clergymen and laymen assembled today to discuss the handling of the religious issue in the presidential campaign.

This closed meeting, with about 125 expected, was sponsored by an organization calling itself the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom.

Scheduled to preside was the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, New York minister and author who denied in an interview last week that his attendance meant participation in the presidential campaign. He said he is "concerned that the so-called religious issue be handled in a truly dignified and American manner."

Dixie Poses Trouble for Dem Ticket

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today there is general agreement among many southern political leaders, editors and men in the streets that the Democrats "face deep trouble" in six key southern states.

The story was based on a two-week tour of the south by Times reporter Claude Sitton.

The states are Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Florida and Texas.

In a dispatch to the Times from Atlanta, Ga., Sitton added:

"There also is evidence of erosion of the traditional loyalty to the Democratic party in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. However, few were willing to predict that Vice President Nixon could carry any of those five states."

The story continued: "The Republicans have moved quickly to capitalize on the south's growing conservatism, a by-product of industrialization and urbanization. Party leaders voiced confidence that 1960 would bring the first big Republican victory in the South since reconstruction days."

Device Spotting Firings Now May Detect Tidal Wave

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — The Navy's new underwater ears, now used to spot the impact of missiles fired from the West Coast, may someday detect destructive tidal waves.

A Hawaiian scientist's proposal that a Navy network of hydrophones in the Pacific do double duty has aroused considerable interest at Pacific Missile Range headquarters here.

Doak C. Cox, head of the Hawaii Geophysics Institute's tidal wave research program, came up with the idea after learning underwater listening devices had been installed near the island of Oahu to pick up sounds generated by nose cones fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

A Navy spokesman said the idea is workable but would require funds not now available in the budget.

Listening devices have been installed on the ocean floor near Oahu, Eniwetok, Wake and Midway islands, he said. At present they are monitored only at the time of missile firings.

Kearney Listed As 'Good' Today

Continued improvement in the condition of Patrolman Thomas R. Kearney, 26, of 63 Henry Street, who was shot accidentally by former Patrolman James L. Steinhilber, 27, of 52 Elmdorf Street, was reported by a spokesman at Kingston Hospital early this afternoon.

Police said the shooting occurred on a raft near the Rondout Yacht Club. Steinhilber resigned as patrolman and later was booked on a charge of discharging a firearm within the city limits. He is scheduled to appear Thursday at 9 a. m. before Special City Judge Arthur Ewig.

Kearney's condition was listed as "good."

Two Found Slain In N.Y. Tavern

NEW YORK (AP) — A garbage collector emptying trash cans glanced through the window of an East 75th Street tavern early today to discover a man and woman shot to death.

Police identified the victims later as Elizabeth Horvath West, 38, blonde hatcheck girl, and Robert Hannigan, about 38, manager of the bar and grill.

The woman's body was on the floor in a dining area of the tavern, called the Castillon Room, at 303 East 75th Street near Second Avenue. Hannigan was slumped on the floor beneath a wall telephone.

Clutched in the man's right hand was a dime, leading officers to theorize he might have been trying to telephone for help as he was slain.

Hannigan had been shot four times in the head and body, and the woman twice.

Police found about $45 in the manager's pockets and $5 to $10 in change in the cash register. Officers indicated they believed other money had been taken from the register.

Discovery of their bodies was made at 5:50 a. m. by Allen Joiner, employee of a private refuse collection concern serving the tavern.

Plugs for U.S. Aid

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Cuban Economics Minister Regino Boti was reported today to make a plug for a $30 billion U. S. aid program for Latin America.

The call for such a massive aid program was made at the second meeting of the committee of 21 by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro at Buenos Aires last year.

Management Says Pickets to Leave Pantry Markets

Pickets in an apparent organizational effort were active today in the area of Pantry Markets, Town of Esopus, but a spokesman for management said they were due to leave in the afternoon as a result of a conference with a union representative at which an agreement had been reached.

The group representing Local 1262, Retail Food Clerks Union, carried signs suggesting: "Employees of Pantry Markets—Join Local 1262 for Better Wages." William McLoughlin, a union secretary with headquarters at Newark, N. J., could not be reached for comment.

Management said, however, that a union representative had been at the store and "all has been taken care of."

New Paltz Men's Club Corn Roast Scheduled on Saturday

Committee in charge is Kenneth Baumgartner, chairman, Vernon Ronk, Alfred Schreiber, Myron Ronk, George Slane, Austin Taylor, Walter Dyer, Wilbur Fredenburg and members of the Men's Club.

Spirit Lives On

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Dr. Townsend is dead," said a mourner at funeral services for the pension plan leader, "but his spirit lives on."

Dr. Francis Townsend, originator of the pension plan which bore his name, died last Thursday at 93. About 175 of his elderly followers attended a non-religious service Tuesday.

Nasser Gets Proposal

CAIRO (AP) — The daily paper Al-Ahram reported today that U. A. R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser has received a message from Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah proposing an African decade of the state meeting in New York during the U. N. General Assembly session. The paper did not report Nasser's reaction.

Stokes Pays $50 Fine for Leaving Scene of Crash

A 22-year-old Kingston man, who was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after a rented car he was driving smashed into a parked station wagon on Andrew Street early Saturday, was fined $50 Tuesday night in City Court.

James Henry Stokes, of 131 Clinton Avenue, pleaded guilty to the charge. Special City Judge Arthur Ewig, who imposed the fine, revoked the man's driver's license.

According to the complaint, a car driven by Stokes smashed into the station wagon owned by Patrolman Harry Lewis Short, 75 Andrew Street, damaging the entire left side of the vehicle.

Alvin S. Bonesteel, 30, Route 2, Box 547, Saugerties, was fined $25 after pleading guilty to driving an automobile without a license. Police said Bonesteel had in his possession an operator's license issued to his brother, Ralph Burton Bonesteel, Bearsville. The license was seized. Bonesteel also pleaded guilty to driving a vehicle without registration. Sentence was suspended.

Two motorists pleaded guilty to speeding and each paid a $15 fine. They were William Benjamin Boomer, 21, of 5 Elizabeth Street, Saugerties, and Gilbert J. Avery, 25, of 17 Canal Street, Ellenville. Leonard Wolfe, 20, of 23 Mary's Avenue, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $10.

Helmut Henry Salewski, 22, Tillson, pleaded guilty to speeding on Main Street and was fined $15. He also pleaded guilty to driving without registration and drew a suspended sentence. Charles E. Newcomb, 30, of 95 Kalina Drive, Saugerties, pleaded guilty to driving without registration and drew a suspended sentence.

Man Gets $1,500 At Liquor Shop

NEW YORK (AP) — A dapper bandit pulled off a $1,500 liquor store holdup Tuesday night, but without mishap. He shot himself in the briefcase.

As police related it, a man with a fashionable attaché case in hand entered a Greenwich Village spirits shop on University Place and asked for a fifth of high quality bourbon.

He also inquired after the contents of the cash register.

To lend point to his demand, he opened the attaché case wide enough to give the salesman a glimpse of a small, sawed-off shotgun.

The salesman emptied the till. When the bandit reached down to stuff the money in the case, the gun went off, blasting a hole in the leather and bouncing a hail of buckshot off the floor and into his leg.

A warning is out for a well dressed man with $1,500, a limp and a hole in his handbag.

Deer Hit on Route 28

A 26-year-old Margaretville motorist escaped injury this morning when his automobile struck and killed a deer on Route 28 about five miles west of Kingston, according to Kingston Police Lieut. Lemuel Howard. Robert Mahone, Box 457, Margaretville, picked up the deer and took it to police headquarters in the city hall, where it was later turned over to Philip Gilen game warden.

Good cooks sometimes use chicken feet for broth. Allow the feet to stand in boiling water (off the range) until the heavy outer skin can be peeled off.

U.S. JETS FOR THE GERMAN AIR FORCE—The first F-104F Starfighters for the West German Air Force, marked with the Maltese Cross used in World War I, are displayed at a base in Norvenich, West Germany. These Mach 2 jets are the first of an order of 30. They are manufactured by Lockheed in Palmdale, Calif., delivered piecemeal to Germany and assembled there. Pilots of the Bonn government have begun training in these planes. On order for the resurgent Luftwaffe are 66 F-104Gs, advanced Super Starfighters. Additionally, West German plants are now tooling up for manufacture of 210 F-104Gs under license from Lockheed.

Barnard College Girls Victors In Shorts Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—Never ones to skirt the issue, the rosy-kneed girls at Barnard College have won the battle of Bermuda shorts.

Word has come down from the top brass that shorts worn to class and library when sessions start later this month will be okay if they are not: too short, too bright, or, ahem, too tight.

However, across the street at Columbia University, the girls will simply have to wear long coats over the shorts. There are boys over there.

Barnard's capitulation came after months of smoldering stalemate. A ban on shorts and slacks announced last May brought a howl of protest from the girls and mixed reaction from the boys.

The girls demanded to decide for themselves what to wear and not to wear on campus.

At Columbia many a youth expressed dismay at the infringement of the freedom to expose a bit of thigh.

However, at Barnard one male instructor who faced the girls en masse in short-bekocked ranks in his art classes put forward the view that many would do well to cover up.

The school's new regulations spell out precisely how short the shorts may be.

Two inches above the knees, and let the howls fall where they may.

Why We Say--

HOOR GLASS FIGURE

FASHION ADS: This expression started with old fashion ads when women were supposed to look like an hour-glass to be in style. The hour-glass is an old timepiece consisting of two sections. Just enough sand is in the upper part to run to the bottom in an hour, thereby making an accurate measure of time.

POLLY'S QUIZ

Dear Polly: I'd like to redecorate my living and dining rooms.

At present they have gray paper, gray wall-to-wall carpeting, dusty rose couch and chair, two green chairs and pink draperies.

Would like walls and woodwork in sandalwood. Would that go with gray carpeting? I don't want white woodwork because my husband smokes cigars and the smoke will turn it brown.—Mrs. C. J. S.

Dear Mrs. C. J. S.: What kind of cigars does your husband smoke? They must be brand X. Sandalwood certainly won't go with your gray walls. The present gray walls sound very nice with your furnishings. Have you considered gray woodwork?

Dear E. N. P.: Sorry but advice on the question of young people going steady is not my line. Suggest you try Ruth Millett.

Dear Polly: How can I reflect a country atmosphere in my home decoration? We're building a split-level on a hill with a lovely view.

The living room will have a cathedral ceiling. The family room, kitchen and entrance hall will have quarry tile floors.

Our family prefers modern furniture. Is this out of keeping with a country home? What about colors? Oklahoma is hot and the rooms are light. My personal preference is for shades of blue.—Mrs. R. E. R.

Dear Mrs. R. E. R.: Indeed modern furniture is in keeping with a country home. Use the blue of the sky and the green of the trees for your "country" scheme.

The living room could have sky blue walls, deep green carpet and sofa covered in a soft blue textured fabric. Draw curtains in a white ground chintz could have contemporary drawing of flowers in shades of blue with green leaves.

A pair of chairs could be covered in blue-and-green cotton. Then add a golden yellow chair for a color splash.

Dear Polly: Piece by piece, I am doing over my living room. Beginning with light green walls and a plain cocoa brown chair, what color draperies could I use? I'm going to buy a tone-on-tone green rug.

My husband wants to use white glass curtains with hand-screened gold print draperies. What color for sofa and chairs?—Mrs. R. R.

Dear Mrs. R. R.: Your husband is right about the curtains. But don't buy a matching couch and chair. I suggest a gold textured-weave sofa and a Lawson-type easy chair covered in green, brown and white plaid. Dull Chinese red accessories would add needed splashes of color.

Dear Reader: A heavy volume of mail doesn't permit Mrs. Cramer to answer her letters and post cards individually. But she will comment in her column on decorating problems of general interest. She cannot undertake to return floor plans or fabric swatches which are enclosed with letters.

If you have a good reputation you have to live up to it, and if it's bad you're expected to live it down.

Highland District Masons Meet at Adonai

HIGHLAND — Masters, senior wardens, and secretaries of the Greene-Ulster Masonic Lodges attended a dinner meeting of Adonai Lodge recently on the invitation of R. W. Merrill Small and his staff.

Small made known the dates of his official visits and outlined his program for the year. Milton Chadderdon, AGL of the district, gave a brief talk on the Masonic ritual and Harry Coutant, district service representative, made known the various services of the Grand Lodge to individual lodges. David Lent district fellowship chairman spoke on inter-lodge activities.

Times Reporter Is Indicted for Racial Articles

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP) — New York Times reporter Harrison Salisbury has been indicted in connection with a series of articles on racial troubles in Birmingham and Bessemer.

The indictment returned by a grand jury Tuesday listed 42 counts of criminal libel. Deputy Circuit Solicitor Howard H. Sulinger said each count resulted from the series published under Salisbury's byline last April.

A state supreme court source said a criminal libel is an extraordinary offense. But he expressed doubt that the governor of Salisbury's home state would grant extradition if Alabama requests it.

The deputy solicitor said the maximum penalty in Alabama on conviction of criminal libel is a $500 fine and six months in jail. Libel suits seeking $500,000 each have been filed against the Times by Birmingham city commissioners James W. Morgan, Eugene Connor and James T. Aggones; Bessemer city commissioners Jess Lanier, Raymond Parson and Herman Thompson. In addition Joe Lindsay, a Birmingham city detective, filed suit asking $100,000 damages.

Attorneys for the Times challenged service of the suits in Alabama. U. S. District Judge H. H. Grooms last week ruled the newspaper could be served in this state. He said the stories that led to the suits were a result of "work or service in the state of Alabama by Mr. Salisbury as an employee of the New York Times Co."

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — They raised the flag at Iwo Jima again.

Universal-International is filming the saga of Ira Hayes as "The Sixth Man." He was the sixth man from the flagstaff in Joe Rosenthal's classic Associated Press photo, a Pima Indian whose life followed a tragic course after his sudden rise to fame.

Two Jima was transplanted to the western reaches of the San Fernando Valley, where the housing tracts are springing up like sagebrush. As yet untouched by the bulldozers is a vast acreage of the Janss Ranch; it can simulate the wildness of almost any country. At present, a rocky hill is doubling for Mt. Suribachi.

It took six men to raise the flag the first time. The movie version required two hundred. The hillside was swarming with technicians and actors, many of them UCLA and USC football players picking up summer cash.

Hardly recognizable was Tony Curtis, who plays Ira Hayes. Stretched out in the dirt between shots, he wore dark make-up and a built-up nose to give him an Indian look.

Overlooking the scene with a careful eye was Sy Bartlett, who is producing the picture. If he seems more cautious than most producers, it's understandable. "The Ira Hayes story kicked around Hollywood for a long time," he said. "Paramount had it for a while, and I understand Elia Kazan wanted to do it with Brando. But the Defense Department wouldn't give any of them an okay."

Bartlett has had experience with the military in such films as "12 O'Clock High" and "Pork Chop Hill." He convinced the brass that the Hayes story would be treated with dignity and respect.

matter of FACT

Scientist have proved man can live on the equivalent of a pound of cereal a day. For six months, 32 men lived on 1,600 calories daily. Their weight fell to 75 per cent of normal, and stayed there.

Knights to Run Excursion Sunday To Bear Mt. Park

An excursion by Day Line steamer to Bear Mountain Park will be sponsored Sunday by Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus.

The steamer, Alexander Hamilton, largest of the present Day Line fleet and last remaining side-wheeler, will leave Newcombe's Dock, Kingston Point, at 10 a. m., arriving at Bear Mountain at 1 p. m.

A four-hour layover will provide time for a family picnic at the pavilion and enjoyment of the park facilities which include a swimming pool, rowboats on Hessian Lake, roller skating, softball, horseshoes, ping pong, shuffleboard, badminton, archery, saddle horses, pony rides, playground and other activities. There is also the Fort Clinton Redoubt and the Tralide Museum, the bear den and zoo and a number of secluded walks.

The steamer departs at 5 p. m., docking at Kingston Point at 8 p. m.

Jim Sweeney's Orchestra will provide music for dancing while the vessel is underway. It is reported that the boat's capacity is limited but that tickets are still available and may be obtained at a number of mercantile establishments in the area.

In the early 1900's river excursions were common. In the early days hay barges were used, arriving late the night before. The committee would load refreshments and equipment and set a watch for the night, the next morning the families coming aboard with their picnic baskets. The barges were towed by tug, with a rowboat trailing astern. Destination was one of the popular river parks.

In later years steamers replaced barges — The Alida, Chauncey Vibbard, Jenny Lind, Ontario, Armenia, Glen Cove, General Sedgwick, James B. Schuyler, Dean Richmond, and Mary Powell. These were followed by modern dayliners, the sidewheelers Albany, Robert Fulton, Hendrick Hudson and Washington Irving, with their upright reciprocating engines and spectacular "walking beams," tan stacks and colorful bunting and flags.

Cabin Is Damaged At Lawton Park

Police today investigated acts of vandalism which caused extensive damage to a cabin at Lawton Park sometime during last night.

Andrew J. Murphy 3rd, superintendent of the Recreation Department, said the building was forced open, windows were smashed on one side of the structure and a portion of the roof was ripped off. He estimated the damage tentatively at approximately $200.

Master Saves Dog After Electric Shock

OMAHA (AP) — Little Man's best friend is a big man. Little Man is a two-month-old Manchester terrier who owes his life to Harry Redman Jr., 29, his master.

Little Man seemed a dead dog from electrocution after he bit into an extension cord socket last Sunday. Redman said "I remembered reading about this mouth-to-mouth respiration. I figured if it worked for people it might work for a dog. I tried it in Maybabe a minute. I felt his heart kick over. Another minute or so and he started breathing on his own."

Strike at Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Authorities at Alcatraz federal prison today sought the reason why most of the 250 inmates refused to answer work call Tuesday morning.

There was no noise and no violence in the strange and unexplained work stoppage. The convicts in the offshore penitentiary for some of the country's toughest prisoners were kept in their cells throughout the day.

Prison authorities said each prisoner denied knowledge of who ordered the work stoppage or why it was ordered. They said each prisoner was afraid of reprisal if he went back to work.

Donna Claims Lives of 116, Continues Northwest Swing

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Hurricane Donna churned toward the northwest today leaving in its wake at least 116 dead and hundreds missing on Puerto Rico and other Caribbean islands.

As the storm, packing 125 mile-an-hour winds, continued its menacing westerly swing, warnings went out to the Bahamas and all points along the southeast coast of the United States to watch hurricane advisories for the next few days.

At the last report, Donna was 600 miles east southeast of Miami and 50 miles north northwest of Turks Island in the southern Bahamas.

The island was buffeted by winds of over 60 miles an hour and drenched by torrential rain during the night. Interests in the central Bahamas were warned to prepare for hurricane winds as Donna approached at 8 miles an hour.

The hurricane left death and destruction in its path. Puerto Rico alone counted at least 106 dead and another 200 missing in floods and high tides.

Three deaths were reported in Port-Au-Prince, capital of Haiti, and at least seven persons perished Monday in the Leeward Islands. Five of these victims were killed on Anguilla and the other two on Antigua Island.

Still groggy, Puerto Ricans began cleaning up after the killer storm that dealt their island its worst blow in decades.

The specter of epidemic loomed over stricken areas where dead cattle polluted the water. With the death toll still mounting, Humacao, hardest hit of the Puerto Rican areas, reported 86 bodies recovered. Some 350 persons were reported injured in the area, most of them residents of slum shacks along the beaches.

14 Children Are Hurt as School Bus Overtakes

SAUQUOIT, N. Y. (AP)—Fourteen grade school children were injured today when a school bus carrying them to the opening day of school overturned after the brakes failed, deputy sheriffs reported. The bus driver also was injured.

Eight of the 14 children were taken to Faxon Hospital in Utica. None appeared to be in serious condition.

The other six suffered bumps and bruises.

The driver, Francis W. Carroll, 45, was hospitalized for X-rays.

The children attend Sauquoit Valley Central School. The accident occurred in a hilly farm area east of this Oneida County community.

The bus swerved off the highway, known as Mohawk Street at about 8:20 a. m. near the King's Road intersection.

It was not known immediately how many children were aboard. The children were treated at a house nearby and the most seriously injured were taken to the hospital in Utica about 15 miles north of here.

Joseph Caruso, David Wilson, Michael Cardillo, and Phyllis Cardillo, all of whom suffered head injuries; Chancey Caruso, injuries to the left knee and leg; Carmen Cavo, head lacerations; Frank Jones, bruises over the eye and a cut mouth; and Elaine Costello, injuries to the head and left leg.

The driver suffered possible injuries to the skull.

Ike Is Critical Of Soviet Union Designs on Congo

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States deplores "the unilateral action of the Soviet Union in supplying aircraft and other equipment for military purposes to the Congo."

The President told a news conference that this has aggravated "an already serious situation which finds Africans killing other Africans."

Contrary to Principles

Eisenhower said further that if these planes are flown by Soviet military personnel, "This would be contrary to the principles so far applied regarding use in the Congo of military contingents from the larger powers."

The President went on to say that so far as he knows these rules have previously been upheld by the Soviet Union.

"Therefore," he added, "it would be doubly serious if such participation by military units were part of an operation in the civil war which has recently taken on very ugly overtones."

President Gives Answer to Truman On Church Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today emphatically repudiated the religious issue as a political weapon to be used by himself, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, or other members of the Republican party.

In what amounted to a reply to a charge by former President Harry S. Truman that Nixon was letting religious bias enter the campaign by the back door, Eisenhower said he knew of no Republican who had suggested to him that the religious issue be used.

The question of religion as a campaign issue arose because Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Democratic presidential nominee, is a Roman Catholic. Nixon, the Republican nominee, was reared as a Quaker.

The President said he hoped that religion is an issue could be laid on the shelf and forgotten until the election is over.

Arcaza Is Fired

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt Tuesday night removed Foreign Minister Ignacio Luis Arcaza from his post.

At the recent San Jose conference of the Organization of American States, Arcaza refused to sign the conference declaration condemning Communist efforts to use Cuba as a springboard into the Western Hemisphere.

When Napoleon abdicated in 1814, France granted him an annual income of two million francs on which to live in exile.

No K Meeting Ike to Address U.N. Sept. 20

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower indicated today he will address the United Nations General Assembly opening Sept. 20 but does not expect to meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev there.

The President told his news conference he has no intention of debating the U.N. by becoming a party to a battle of invective and propaganda.

Eisenhower said the chances that he will see Khrushchev, who has announced he will head the Soviet delegation to the session are very, very slim indeed.

Certain conditions, would have to be fulfilled before such a meeting could be possible, the President said. One, he said in response to questions, would be the freeing of crew members of the American RB47 plane downed by Russia.

There are other conditions, too, he added. But he said he does not intend to discuss them at this time.

Houston Delays Admission of 3 Negro Children

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Negro parents sought to enter their children in previously all-white schools here today, but school authorities did not enroll them immediately.

Three Negro children had sought admission at two schools. The attempt to enroll the children were the only immediate developments when the nation's largest segregated school system opened its doors for the fall term under federal court orders to integrate.

May Come Monday

School officials said it will be at least Monday before Negroes are admitted to previously all-white schools.

The school board in an emergency session Tuesday night voted 4-0 to order Supt. John W. McFarland to follow W. U. S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally's order to integrate the first grade. But the same motion specified that Negro applicants would not be notified until Friday if they are to be accepted.

A survey of school areas today showed no unusual number of adults around the schools and there was no evidence of any police guards for the opening.

"No court or court case says we must lessen the efficiency of our schools when we integrate," commented Stone Wells, board vice president.

The action was taken at an emergency board meeting shortly after the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans turned down an appeal and Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled the district would not lose $6 million in state school funds.

Wilson held that a school district which integrated under federal court order did not do so voluntarily and thus was not subject to penalties of a state law.

Peaceful Elsewhere

The Houston developments came on a day marked by peaceful school integration for the first time in Richmond, Va., capital of the Confederacy, and two other Virginia cities, Roanoke and Pulaski.

Negroes attended public schools with white youngsters without incident in a gradually increasing number of other Southern cities. Florida's first public secondary school was integrated in token fashion when a Negro girl enrolled at North Miami Beach Junior High along with 1,390 white pupils.

But the Deep South states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina stood firm although New Orleans has been ordered to integrate Nov. 14 and Atlanta by next fall.

A dozen Negroes attended opening classes with white pupils at Central and Hall high schools in Little Rock, Ark., scene of segregationist demonstrations in past years. There was no sign of trouble this time.

Near Pine Bluff, Ark., a Negro girl, 6, prepared to attempt to break the racial barrier today at the all-white Dollarway District School. Dolores Jean York, a first grader, was assigned to the school by the board in compliance with a federal court order.

Segregationists have been active in the Dollarway District since three Negro teen-agers tried unsuccessfully to integrate the school early in 1959.

Mitchell Would Have Commission Hear RR Dispute

CHICAGO (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell plans to ask the nation's railroads and five operating unions today to submit their bitter work rules dispute to a special advisory commission.

Mitchell said he will present a joint labor-management meeting with the proposal, the result of his 18-month-long search for a solution to the dispute.

Both the unions and railroads consider the dispute economically crucial. Findings of the commission apparently would not be binding but presumably would carry considerable weight of a persuasive nature.

Work rules determine, for instance, how many crewmen a diesel engine will carry and on what basis they will be paid.

The railroads say outmoded rules, some dating to 1919, force them to hire unneeded workers. The railroads call this feather-bedding and say it costs them $50 million a year.

The unions argue the dispute jobs are necessary for safety, among other reasons.

Pieck, President Of East Germany, Succumbs Today

BERLIN (AP) — Wilhelm Pieck 84, president of Communist East Germany, died this morning, the official news agency ADN announced.

A bulletin signed by four doctors said a sudden weakness of the heart on Sunday was complicated by an inflammation of the lungs.

Pieck, whose job was largely that of a figurehead, had been too ill to appear in public since July 10, 1958. At that time other Communist leaders helped him to the stage at a big party celebration. Walter Ulbricht the deputy premier, is the real political leader in East Germany.

One of Pieck's last acts was to receive Seydout Conte as ambassador from Guinea, officially announced as the first country outside the Communist bloc to recognize the East German state. This was in March, President Sekou Toure has since repudiated the recognition.

Pieck's term as president was due to expire in October 1961. One son and two daughters survive. Arthur Pieck is general manager of the East German airline, Lufthansa. Lore Staimer is East German ambassador to Yugoslavia. His other daughter, Elly Winter, took care of him in his last illness.

The fat and jovial Pieck was a long-time Communist revolutionary who lived much of his life outside Germany. He returned in 1945 from exile in Moscow, and in 1949, when the Soviets converted their German zone of occupation into a "democratic republic," he was installed as first president.

Hurok Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Impresario Sol Hurok has been selected by the Sam S. Shubert Foundation as recipient of its sixth annual award for "outstanding individual contribution to the New York legitimate theater." Hurok was cited for a theatrical array last season that included the French Theatre National Populaire, the Old Vic Company, the Grenadier Guards, the Spanish Ballet of Roberto Inglesias, and the Bolshoi Ballet and Berzozka dancers from Russia.

Escaped Mental Patient Picked Up By Kingston Police

A 36-year-old escapee from a Massachusetts State Hospital was apprehended early today by Detectives William Slover and Albert Hutton Jr., in the vicinity of Foxhall and Albany Avenues.

Police identified the patient as Ralph B. Tanner Jr., who escaped from the State Hospital at Westboro, Mass., on March 19. The detectives were attracted by the suspicious actions of the man when they spied him loitering in the area.

Tanner was taken to police headquarters and a check was made of teletype alarms. State Police at Grafton, Mass., were called and they confirmed that the man was being sought.

Hospital authorities were notified at Westboro, and arrangements were made to send Tanner to the Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie, to await return to Westboro.
